Chinese Reds Propose Peace Compromise

GOP Suggests
$137,700,000
In Budget Cuts

Harrisburg (AP) — Republican Assembly leaders yesterday proposed $137,700,000 in budget cuts to avoid new taxes but failed to agree on details of the plan.

The new cost-cutting effort got under way, coincidentally, shortly before Gov. John S. Fine's Tax Study Committee offered a dozen suggestions for new taxes to solve the state's financial dilemma. The committee did not back any specific levy.

Fine recommended that the Assembly impose 157 million dollars in new taxes to balance the state's $1,400,000,000 budget deficit for the next biennium. The Republican leaders figured they could balance the budget without new taxes, with 20 million dollars in Chesterman economy proposals, if they could agree on 137 million in budget cuts.

Both Senate and House GOP caucuses spent hours in discussing the budget-cutting plan without a formal decision to support it.

Practically all phases of the GOP budget-cutting proposals would transfer the tax burden to municipalities and school districts.

Highlighting the $137,700,000 budget-cutting plan is a proposal to save 40 millions at the state level by requiring school districts, instead of the commonwealth, to pay an automatic $200-a-year salary boost to teachers in the next two years.

The Tax Study Committee's suggestions for new revenue included the once-defeated flat income tax and the long-proposed general sales tax. The administration has conceded that neither could be passed by the 1953 session.

Other sources of revenue the Tax Study Committee listed were taxes on pari-mutuel betting, soft drinks, amusements, tobacco, restaurant meals, hotel rooms, restaurant meals, gas, electric, telephone and telegraph bills, and unincorporated businesses and professions.

The Tax Study Committee, citing the fact that educational costs alone will automatically increase by nearly a half billions dollars by 1960, said:

"The ever-recurring pressure for new tax sources proves that the commonwealth has failed to develop a revenue structure sufficiently diversified and flexible to provide steadily increasing funds required to finance the expanding general fund budgets."

Senate Okays
Welfare Plan

Washington (AP) — The Senate yesterday approved President Eisenhower's plan to create a new Cabinet-rank department of health, education and welfare.

The Senate action, by voice vote, completed congressional approval of the President's reorganization plan. The House had already approved it, 291 to 85.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Texas Democrat and World War II commander of the Women's Army Corps (WAC), has already been named to head the new department. She will become the 10th member of the President's Cabinet. At present, Mrs. Hobby is head of the Federal Security Administration.

The new department will come into being 10 days after Eisenhower signs the legislation.

Boardwalk Hotel
Prey To Flames

Atlantic City, N.J. (AP) — A spectacular million-dollar fire gutted the seven-story rear portion of the Strand Hotel on the boardwalk yesterday.

A man and three women were trapped on a narrow outside ledge 30 feet above the street before firemen could raise extension ladders and rescue them.

No one was seriously hurt in the nighttime fire. About 20 guests were staying in the 300-room hotel boardwalk.

A 19-year-old truck driver has been ordered to appear before Stroudsburg police at 10 a. m. today to give his version of an accident which resulted in damages estimated at $5,000 at the intersection of Morningside and Park Avenues at 1:30 a. m. yesterday.

Navy Develops
Guided Missile
For Submarine

Washington (AP) — The Navy disclosed yesterday it now has in operation a submarine carrying a faster-than-sound guided missile capable of blasting inland targets — presumably with the fury of the A-bomb.

This means that all three military services — Army, Air Force and Navy — have in production for combat and defense purposes a family of guided weapons approaching the fantastic.

With movie and still pictures, and carefully worded description, the Navy stripped some of the secrecy from its newest member of the supersonic family and its use from a submarine.

What this new development adds up to is that the Navy now can sneak a submarine up to an enemy coast, launch its missile and guide it to a distant target.

The guided missile — called "Regulus" — looks and apparently operates like a small, pilotless, swept-wing jet fighter plane. Its fat, stubby, cigar-shaped body is some 30 feet long, but the pattern will vary according to the type of job the missile is designed to do.

Easing Of War
Situation Drops
Stock Quotations

New York (AP) — An estimated two billion dollars was wiped out of the quoted value of listed securities on the New York stock exchange yesterday in a break on the heels of Korean prisoner of war exchange proposals.

The break sent prices down $4 and $5 a share at the worst with losses from a few cents to around $3 a share frequent.

Hardest hit were aircrafts, steels, motors, and railroads together with stocks of companies heavily engaged in defense work.

The selling was based on the fear of uncertainty of the impact on the American economy of any possible change in the present Korean conflict.

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. Harold C. Eaton
East Stroudsburg Methodist Church

I visited a Christian family of our community, respected, wonderful people. The husband is an immigrant. Suddenly he said, "Here in America we take too much for granted."

With grim sadness he continued, "Three years ago my mother, a devout Christian, died in Russian occupied Germany. She had to be buried without a minister. My sister lives there in continuing fear, refused worship. The people are hungry, enslaved."

I found myself saying inwardly, "Freedom: To speak, to print, to assemble, to worship; liberty, justice, equality; church bells ringing daily, happy people seeking the church of their choice. Compare us with folk whose only prayers are silent and in dread!"

How much we have! How little we appreciate it!

Sometimes, in pessimistic mood, I find myself asking must it happen that because so many of us treat God so lightly, we shall all have to be beaten to our knees by oppressors to bring us to realize that He is our only way of hope and salvation?

If we will not look to the cross and be saved, must we face the hammer and sickle? Christianity is the central bulwark of freedom. We neglect it only to be enslaved.

Come, brother Christians, it is Lent. Dare we be less than devout?

U.S. Drafts
Plan To Cut
Foreign Aid

Washington (AP) — Congressional leaders met with President Eisenhower yesterday and later said plans were outlined to slash U. S. foreign aid spending.

How heavy the cuts will be and where has not been determined, said Senate Republican Leader Taft of Ohio and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.). Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen previously has said he was searching for ways to reduce administrative costs.

Taft and Martin, talking with reporters after their regular Monday session with Eisenhower, said the United States definitely will not spend the 7½ billion dollars for foreign aid in the fiscal year which begins July 1.

Ike Orders
Tax Setups
Be Studied

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress yesterday to set up a commission to develop a plan for sounder relationship between federal, state and local governments.

"Friction, duplication and waste" in federal and state operations, Eisenhower said, "is a major national problem."

"It is time to relieve the people of the need to pay taxes on taxes."

Eisenhower didn't say what he meant by taxes on taxes. But here's an example:

The federal government has a tax on cigars. This is passed on to the consumer. If he's in a state where a sales tax is levied, he then pays a tax on a tax.

The problem of federal-state relationships is not a small one, Eisenhower said, since well over two billion dollars — or a fifth of the income of the states — are spent each year in federal grant-in-aid.

Most of these grants, the President said, are in the fields of social security, health and education. But he said this doesn't mean he's any less concerned about the objectives of these programs.

"On the contrary," the President said, "these programs can be made more effective instruments serving the security and welfare of our citizens."

Bill To Extend
Trade Act Offered

Washington (AP) — Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.) introduced a bill yesterday to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year but bar only lowering of tariffs to levels that "imperial" American producers or workers.

The House Ways and Means Committee ordered hearings on the bill beginning April 22.

Charged With Murder

Reading (AP) — Mrs. Irene Haag was charged with murder yesterday in the fatal "disciplinary" whipping of her nephew, Terry Lee Geiger, 4, last week.

Fields Among Victims

Largo, Fla. (AP) — Arthur Fields, 65, composer of several popular song hits, was identified yesterday as one of the 33 persons killed when a fire swept a nursing home.

Sen. McCarthy,
Stassen Clash
On Red Trade

Washington (AP) — Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen yesterday angrily accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of interfering with the nation's foreign policy by negotiating an agreement with Greek ship owners to halt trade with Red China and North Korea.

Far from being abashed, McCarthy retorted that he is going ahead with plans to sign a new agreement — this time with Greek owners of ships flying the British flag.

McCarthy said negotiations may be completed today for an agreement with a new group of Greek ship owners, with offices in London, that will result in taking an additional 100 to 150 ships out of the China trade. These ships are registered in Britain.

The previous agreement was made with a group of Greek ship owners in New York.

In a heated face-to-face debate, recorded over a nation-wide television hookup, Stassen bluntly told McCarthy that his tactics are "undermining" the Eisenhower administration's own efforts to reach international agreements barring the shipment of war potential materials to Iron Curtain countries.

"I wouldn't take your word for it," McCarthy snapped back.

At another point, the Wisconsin senator told Stassen:

"The committee accomplished what you and Secretary of State Dulles did not accomplish. I highly compliment the three young men on our staff who did what the whole State Department under (former secretary) Acheson was not able to do."

At the State Department, Dulles declined to comment on McCarthy's statement.

A bitter dispute verging on a constitutional row between the executive and legislative branches of the government broke out as Stassen and McCarthy clashed over the right of a congressional committee to negotiate agreements with foreign nationals.

McCarthy had made it clear in announcing the agreement with Greek owners of 242 ships last Saturday that he acted without consulting the Eisenhower administration.

"I don't want any interference by anyone," he said at the time.

Under the Constitution, the President is responsible for the conduct of foreign affairs. It was not clear, however, whether McCarthy's action in by-passing the executive branch infringed on the President's prerogative.

Legal experts said it would have been an outright violation of the Constitution if McCarthy had negotiated an agreement with a foreign government, rather than with private ship operators.

Rainiest March
On Record Noted

It was only a drop in the bucket, so to speak, but the two-hundredths of an inch of rain that fell here yesterday made it New York's rainiest March in recorded history.

Recorded history — in weather — goes back here 82 years, and shows that the most rain ever to fall in March previously fell in March of 1876.

The total for March that year was 7.90 inches. The showers yesterday put the March total up to 7.91 inches.

Clergyman Given
40-Year Term

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP) — Convicted of murdering his wife, Rev. George P. Hetenyi, 43, yesterday was sentenced to serve 40 years to life in prison.

The stocky, Hungarian-born clergyman was convicted March 6 on a charge of second-degree murder. Two other murder convictions had been reversed on appeal.

Suggest 'Neutral State'
Help Settle POW Issue

Tokyo (AP) — Red China's Premier last night proposed that the 35-month-old Korean War be ended by a compromise of the thorny prisoner of war issue. The proposal was made over Peiping radio.

The State Department in Washington and the United Nations Command immediately said, in effect, to put it in writing.

The heart of the broadcast by the Red Premier Chou En-lai was his proposal that a "neutral state" take over all those prisoners not willing to go home and let the countries concerned talk it over with them. But he did not make clear if these prisoners would have the final choice.

Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations Far Eastern commander, said today Chou's plan would get "immediate and careful consideration" by his headquarters "when and if the proposal outlined in the broadcast is received officially from the Communist armistice delegation at Panmunjom."

At the same time, a meeting of liaison officers was scheduled for 2 p.m. today (midnight EST) at Panmunjom at the request of U. N. officers.

Senate Gets
Bill To Drop
Seven Colleges

Harrisburg (AP) — Legislation to discontinue seven of Pennsylvania's 14 state teachers colleges headed a new batch of 20 bills designed to implement recommendations of the Chesterman State Government Survey Committee.

The bills were introduced as the Senate moved 13 other Chesterman recommendations bills to position for final passage today. The latter measures will be voted on today, said Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader.

All of the bills are sponsored by Sens. Mahany and John H. Dent, Senate Democratic floor leader, as a means of getting the economy recommendations of the Chesterman Committee to the floor for a vote.

Chief of the bills to be voted on today are abolition of the Department of Internal Affairs and consolidation of the Department of Health, Welfare and Public Assistance.

Legislation to transfer the Milk Control Commission to the Agriculture Department was recommittees for a public hearing April 7.

The new bill to eliminate half the state's teachers colleges does not list specific institutions. It would consolidate present teachers college districts to eliminate seven of the present districts.

Sales Tax
Proposed

Harrisburg (AP) — A veteran Republican legislator last night introduced a bill to impose a 2 per cent sales tax as a way of partially solving Pennsylvania's financial dilemma.

Rep. Earl E. Hewitt Sr. (R-Indiana) would exempt only liquor, beer, cigarettes, gasoline, newspapers, food for home consumption and public utilities.

Hewitt also has proposed a similar tax paid by the retailers. Thus a levy is known as a mercantile tax.

One cent would be paid on each sale between 5 and 50 cents and 2 cents between 51 cents and $1.

Hewitt said a sales or mercantile tax "is the only real way of solving the commonwealth's tax problems. He has introduced similar levies in past sessions. All have died in committees."

President Names
Nelsen REA Head

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower yesterday nominated Lt. Gov. Ancher Nelsen of Minnesota to be chief of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Nelsen would succeed Claude Wickard, a Truman appointee who recently resigned by request of the Eisenhower administration.

The White House announcement on nomination of Nelsen came while he was at the White House conferring with the President.

No reason was disclosed but it was believed to be for the purpose of delivering a reply by Clark to an earlier Red offer for an exchange of sick and wounded prisoners.

Chou's Peiping broadcast last night in part resembled an Indian peace plan and in part a plan previously advanced at Panmunjom by the Allied truce negotiators. The Reds had rejected both those plans.

Chou, only recently returned from Moscow, proposed an "immediate" resumption of the armistice talks.

But Chou made it quite clear the Reds held mental reservations about the key issue — what to do about more than 51,000 Communist prisoners of war who say they don't want to go home.

"We are not selling the state short," commented a spokesman for Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations commander in the Far East, "but so far it is just a Communist radio broadcast."

In Washington the State Department said any "constructive proposals" the Reds have on repatriation should be submitted at Panmunjom. Officials plainly meant this was preferable to broadcasting generalities which might turn out to be only propaganda.

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said the Chou offer was "very encouraging" and would get close study.

United Nations diplomats in New York voiced guarded optimism. Reaction in the U. S. Congress seemed favorable but cautious.

The unofficial view in Washington was that the proposal, on the surface came closer than any previous Red approach to the U. N. offer.

The spokesman for Gen. Clark pointed out that as yet no formal written offer had been received as was the case last Saturday when the Reds agreed to Clark's offer to exchange sick and wounded under the Geneva Convention.

Chou's proposal in brief:

One — "Repatriate immediately after the cessation of hostilities all those prisoners of war in their custody who insist upon repatriation."

Two — "Hand over the remaining prisoners of war (the carefully avoided identifying them as involuntary repatriates) to a neutral state so as to ensure a just solution to the question of their repatriation."

Three — "The neutral state would allow representatives of each side to explain to these prisoners what their decision would mean."

Chou immediately said this did not mean the Reds "acknowledge the assertion of the United Nations Command that there are among the prisoners of war individuals who allegedly refuse repatriation."

He also said the neutral state having custody of war prisoners should afford the Reds opportunity to talk it over with "those captured personnel of our side who, under the intimidation and oppression of the opposite side, are filled with apprehensions and are afraid to return home."

U.S. Production
At High Level

Washington (AP) — U. S. industrial production, keyed up by surging auto production and sales, reached a new post-war high in February and has continued upward this month, the Federal Reserve Board reported yesterday.

The board put industrial production at an index of 239 in February — 139 per cent over the average level of the 1935-39 base period and at 241 in March. The February figure was 17 points over a year ago.

Nairobi, Kenya (AP) — Wreckage of a Central African Airways plane which disappeared Saturday with at least 15 persons aboard was found in the African wilds yesterday. Officials said all were killed.

U. N. Reacts
With Guarded
Optimism

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — Most U. N. delegates reacted with guarded optimism yesterday to Red China's broadcast offer of a compromise on the Korean prisoner of war issue which both sides say is the only obstacle to an armistice.

V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian deputy delegation leader and author of the U. N. truce proposals rejected by the Communists last December, called the new Chinese statement "the biggest news of the day."

"It brings hope and cheer to thousands of millions of people," Menon said in a U. N. broadcast beamed to India and the Orient generally. "Let us hope this is the beginning of peace."

Paul Martin, chief Canadian delegate said in another U. N. radio interview that "if genuine, the Chinese broadcast could lead to the end of the war in Korea and be the biggest news the world has had in 2½ years. The Chinese statement overshadows everything now being discussed in the U. N."

At the same time the Big Five delegates put off until today possible showdown vote on a successor to Secretary General Trygve Lie. The Big Five — Britain, France, Nationalist China, United States and the Soviet Union — apparently did not want to shut the door on an agreement on that troublesome problem while the Korean question is bubbling.

There was no official communication here relative to the broadcast and U. N. officials watched for it with great interest.

Coming so quickly on the heels of a Red Chinese agreement to exchange sick and wounded prisoners, delegates openly speculated that this might mean a break in the long-dormant Korean situation. But several advised a full examination of the two declarations.

An American source who would not be identified said these would be taken with an attitude of "healthy skepticism." He said the U. S. views such broadcasts and the peace talk in Moscow as "straws in the wind. The question is to decide how strong is the straw and how hard is the wind blowing."

Chinese Switch
To Sneak Stabs
On Vegas Hill

Seoul, (AP) — Badly mauled Chinese Reds switched from power-house punches to sneak stabs yesterday 30 miles north Stab, where U. S. Marines estimate they knocked out a Red regiment, 3,000 to 3,500 men, in the past five days of furious fighting.

Triumphant Marines on Vegas Hill broke up two Chinese attempts to slip up on the position. "The effectiveness of the Chinese regiment has been destroyed," a First Marine Division spokesman said.

Over in the snow-covered hills of the Eastern Front, 300 Chinese Reds drove 50 yards through advance lines of South Koreans on Christmas Hill west of the Mundung Valley before Allied reinforcements threw them back. One third of the attacking force was estimated killed.

Woman Didn't
Want Evacuated

Saco, Me. (AP) — Civilian defense workers told an elderly woman they were going to evacuate her from her flood-endangered home near the Saco River.

"What do you mean," she said indignantly. "At my age you want to stick something in my arm!"

Roger Gay, York County's deputy of director, said he explained they didn't mean "inoculate."

Bomber Crashes

Lagos Airfield, Azores, (AP) — A U. S. Air Force B29 bomber crashed and flew into the ground after taking off from an airfield near here Sunday night. Six of the 15 persons aboard were killed instantly and nine others were injured, four critically.

Tests Determine Pupil's Interests And Abilities

Testing programs today form an important part of every school's educational system.

Tests are used as guideposts in determining those things in which individual students are most interested and have greatest abilities. Although most such tests are administered during the high school years, many schools now attempt to get an early view of the child's psychological makeup through preliminary tests in seventh and eighth grades.

At Stroudsburg High School these early tests give school officials an outline of the child's interests and capacities even before he has entered secondary school. Under direction of assistant principal Samuel O. Wells III, the "Elementary California Test of Mental Maturity" is administered to seventh graders in the borough school.

This test, as its name indicates, shows the stage of the child's mental advancement.

When the child is an eighth grader, he receives three tests: The "California Aptitude Test of Occupations," "Iowa Algebra Aptitude Test" and a "Foreign Language Aptitude Test."

The first of these is similar, in many ways, to regulation tests given to servicemen. It helps on a lower level—to indicate those fields in which the young man or woman has interest and ability. It may help, in the long run, to channel the child's energies toward a specific field.

Each of the remaining eighth grade tests are to determine ability in the fields of algebra or foreign language.

On entering ninth grade, the Stroudsburg student is given an intermediate version of the "California Mental Maturity" test he received in seventh grade. Findings from this test will help to correct or corroborate previous conclusions.

In addition, he receives the "Science Research Associates (SRA) Youth Inventory Test" for purposes of personality analysis and the "Kuder Preference Test" which helps to analyze his interests further.

A new test is added for tenth graders. This is the "Thurston Temperament Analysis."

The Thurston test attempts to show several things. It gives an indication of whether the child is "slow" in nature, whether he tends to "dominate" his fellow students and how strongly he reacts to his own urge to do specific things.

Although it offers no surface conclusions, the test does give an accurate summary of the individual child's emotional makeup. It may show, in some cases, those children who need help in emotional adjustment.

Eleventh grade testing is devoted to taking these tests already given, over again.

These are the California mental maturity test in the adult series, the SRA youth inventory and the Kuder preference test.

Retaking the tests helps to prove or disprove previous conclusions. It also permits the school to give the tests to those students who, for one reason or another, have missed taking the examinations.

Entering their final school year, seniors who are preparing for college are given an additional series of tests designed especially for their type.

Among these are the "Ohio Psychological Examination" and the "American Council Examination For College Freshmen." Each, in its own way, helps prepare the student for college entrance tests.

Using conclusions gained from any or all of the tests given to students, school officials are able to piece together a composite picture of the student.

Each test provides one facet of the student's personality. Some of the tests deal primarily with mental attitudes. Others show mechanical abilities.

Like pieces from a jigsaw puzzle,

Miss Elizabeth Squires spent several days with Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner. Miss Squires has just returned from a trip to California and is en route to her home in Salisbury, Conn., where she will spend the summer.

Mrs. Richard Bartholomew returned to her home in Scotia, N. Y. Ann Lynn and Alan remained to spend some time with their grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner.

Recent callers at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rouse, of Jackson Heights, L. I.; Mrs. Lauffer Stephens, Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman, Mrs. Myrtle Rodenbach, Sheila all eventually fit together into a whole.

It remains for the school official to complete the picture.

He does this in close cooperation with the individual boy or girl and the parents.

At no time does the school attempt to "select" an occupation on the basis of conclusions from the tests, Wells emphasizes. Schoolmen may make recommendations. Any decision on work categories or professions must be made by the student and his home.

In their own area, psychological and aptitude tests have proved of great value to schoolmen and to students. In some cases, results from such tests have saved years of dissatisfaction and maladjustment for a student.

Just how effective such tests may be, in the final analysis, cannot be accurately measured.

More and more schools, like Stroudsburg, now use them. Schoolmen recognize them as an attempt to help the student adjust properly in the world in which he lives.

In the American conception of education, this is an all-important, never-ending role.

Clean Up Red Cross Drive

The Red Cross roll call fund campaign is drawing to a close with too many loose ends floating around. Person after person is reporting "nobody contacted me".

In Stroudsburg, for instance, some $3,700 has been collected against a quota of $5,100. A swift check yesterday showed that the Main St. business section had not been completely covered. Immediate steps were taken to solicit the street, Red Cross officials said.

How many other sections were not covered or not re-checked when individuals were not at home?

There are other regions not yet up to quota. Ross township has turned in $18 against a $150 quota.

Total funds to date total about $11,000.

What's needed now is a thorough clean-up. Complete coverage should be given. A re-check must be made where people were not at home.

And the people can demonstrate their recognition of the value of the Red Cross—its blood collection program which they use and the aids to servicemen and their families—by sending in their contribution without solicitation.

Instruction By Television

With the forthcoming activities of television stations in Pennsylvania, interest among educators is once again focused on the possibilities of the new medium as aid to education, and in this connection the experience of Baltimore is worth studying.

Maryland's foremost city, through its board of education, believes that television has a definite place in modern education but that its limitations must be realized before elaborate plans are set in motion.

Last January an emergency program of television and radio instruction was conducted in Baltimore during a strike of school maintenance men over a period of ten days, but its school superintendent has said that one of its greatest weaknesses was the lack of question-and-answer interchange between pupil and teacher, and the fact that there could be no provision for individual differences among children viewing the TV.

These faults in the use of TV in education would seem to be obvious ones, but they are predicated on lessons sent out to pupils at home.

Television in education, it appears, is most valuable where school-rooms equipped with receiving sets are able to participate in special programs arranged for the schools.

The West End School

The Pleasant Valley Joint School Board meets Thursday night to renew its consideration of processing the Switzgabel-Kunkle tract at Brodheadsville as the site for the new million dollar school.

Everything has been done regarding the site except survey it so that it can be submitted for state approval.

Up to the moment everything done has been performed in a legal, democratic manner. There are no apparent flaws in procedures to date.

Let's not have any more technicalities raised. Let's get the site matter cleared up and get the school under way. The youngsters in the West End have suffered too long in jammed school rooms. They deserve a break—not a delay.

CAMERA!

A video press conference by President Eisenhower is still a possibility, but the Republicans are waiting for color TV. The favored video coverage for awhile. But may have concluded that a press conference is not enough without it. He is reported coming around to a decision that a telecast of such governmental routines will not be a good idea until the people put either Jimmy Durante or Tallulah Bankhead in to the White House.

This nation is picture mad. Its most normal citizens will rush to get into the act anywhere a camera appears. The public is all for making a video show of the press conference and sees nothing wrong in the ultimate summing up of a political career in the words, "From log cabin to Channel Four." There are TV addicts who would like to have the inaugural address sung by an Arthur Godfrey quartette and the state of the union portrayed by a DeMille ballet. It would not displease them to see Kukla, Fran and Ollie conducting an inquiry into the Voice of America, and they would go along with a Senator Tobey investigation featuring Dagmar as a guest star.

There are millions who would like a regular Monday night White House program, "I Love Momie," and a Tuesday evening "This is Your Uncle Ike," competing with Milton Berle. And a Thursday night Blue Room "Betty's Life" in which a President could give Groucho Marx real competition. Nevertheless, it is our hunch the TV press conference idea will be dropped for some time. What a President says is never subject to direct quotation. Every President makes a slip of the tongue now and then and on TV a slip of the lip can become "Your Show of Shows." The Presidential press conference is really a quiz program, the daddy of all such programs. Some Presidents have made it a snappy, colorful hour, some have made it a flop. Teddy Roosevelt in a press conference telecast would have made what Variety would call a "sockeroo pix." Bill Taft would have gone over only as a male Kate Smith. Woodrow Wilson might have been pretty hot. Herbert Hoover, in which there was never any trace of fame. Franklin D. Roosevelt would have done so well his audience would have been calling him "Uncle Frankie." Calvin Coolidge might have been okay in a telecast of the weather. Harry Truman was in the White House in the age of television, but never tried to compete with Margaret. But in the New Deal he had what taxpayers call a pretty good "Break the Bank" show.

He is a TV natural. His personality projects good humor, a sense of showmanship and crisp words and music. But somehow we would rather not see him in a TV press conference subject to "What do you think of the latest Russian plane attack? No promptings, please." and "You are now shooting for the $2,800 jackpot. Do you think you can lower taxes?"

"Moscow contends that all planes fired on by Soviet fliers were spying on Russia," News item.

George Sokolsky Says...

It Will Require At Least Three More Months Before Ike's Forces Take Over

Platform and Performance

The Eisenhower Administration has not been in office long enough to have accomplished very much. Our people have become so accustomed to insensibilities, to emergencies, to Presidents who project their personalities in staccato excitement, that a quieter approach to public problems and the administration of the government gives the impression of inadequate performance.

Actually this Administration has been in office less than three months. It will take at least another three months to take over. I recall discussing this very question with Homer Cummings, Roosevelt's first Attorney General, late in 1933. At that time, Democrats were still in office and it looked very much as though no Democrats would be appointed.

The slowness of the turnover is inevitable in our type of government. We do not, as in Great Britain, have responsible party government. Ours is a mixed system: the people place responsibility upon a political party, but object to what is called "the spoils system." Thus, even in positions of the policy-making level, where Party responsibility should be fixed, it is a slow process to make the turnover. In fact, some of the positions have tenure fixed by law. In Great Britain, men holding comparable positions would resign when the government changed.

Nevertheless, General Eisenhower was elected on a platform and, during the campaign, he delivered a long series of addresses which constitute the promise of his Party. In 1954, Republican Senators and Representatives will be elected and defeated partly on the keeping of the promises made in 1952. Three of the Republican Party's most important Senators will run in 1954: Senators Bridges, Ferguson and Mundt. They will be strengthened by adequate performance; they can be defeated by a failure to cut taxes.

In essence, the Republican campaign of 1952 was projected on the lines:

1. That the Korean War was being fought improperly and to no purpose;
2. That many in government were corrupt;
3. That subversives, particularly Communists, had not only infiltrated the Government but all phases of American life;
4. That the Administrations of Messrs. Roosevelt and Truman had been extravagant, careless of the people's money; that the expenditures of government were too great and wasteful, and that taxes could be cut. On numerous occasions, General Eisenhower said that taxes could be cut;
5. That the Marshall-Acheson conduct of the State Department was outrageous and had resulted in significant defeats for the United States, and that the Acheson crowd must be cleaned out of the Government because it consisted of wrong people, both morally and ideologically.

This is what the Republicans said not only during the campaign but throughout their opposition to President Truman. Republican statements on these subjects have been vehement. For instance, to establish the Republican position on Korea, General Douglas MacArthur was made the Keynote of the publican Convention. It is a startling fact that on this subject, General MacArthur, General Ridgway and General Van Fleet have established the same attitude.

Although the President and his Secretary of State proclaimed a new Republican policy on Korea, they backed away from it after the visit to this country of Anthony Eden. Again, while John Foster Dulles appeared, at first, to be fully cooperative with Congressional committees in cleaning out the State Department, he risked a quarrel by insisting upon the appointment to Moscow of Charles Bohlen. Also, he compromised with John Carter Vincent by allowing him a pension after frankly describing him as unfit. The fight on Bohlen is a definite reflex to the decision on Vincent.

The McCarran Committee cited not only Owen Lattimore but John P. Davies, Jr., to the Attorney General for contempt. Under Attorney General McGranery, action against Lattimore was initiated and is being continued. Nothing has been done about Davies. Indeed, General Walter Bedell Smith appeared before the Foreign Relations Committee and testified in favor of Davies.

The appointment of Scott McLeod as Security Officer of the State Department was looked upon by Republicans in Congress as a step forward. When he declined to clear Bohlen, he was superseded in this particular matter by the Secretary of State, which has frightened more Republican Senators than appear in the record.

Republicans are particularly worried about taxes. They do not believe that a tax cut can be postponed to 1954. They feel that the people will consider themselves as having been fooled.

Robert S. Allen Reports Army Ordnance Is Headed For Rough Time In Senate

Washington — Army Ordnance is headed for a rough time when the Senate Armed Services Subcommittee resumes investigating the ammunition shortage in Korea.

Ordnance will be branded as the chief culprit in that unhappy affair.

That is the principal finding of staff members of the committee who have made an exhaustive study of the matter in preparation for the committee's forthcoming public hearings.

The staff's private report flatly contradicts Army claims that last year's steel strike was largely responsible for the ammunition shortage.

This blunt refutation will probably be vigorously challenged. But the staff report backs up its damaging contention with detailed production figures from official sources.

Following are the highlights of the staff's revealing report to the committee:

Three factors are mainly responsible for the lack of adequate ammunition reserves in Korea: (1) Underestimates of the amount that would be required; (2) faulty contracting; and (3) failure to expand production facilities.

All these grave blunders are primarily the fault of Army Ordnance.

Despite the steel strike, a record amount of 3,450,000 tons of carbon steel, the type used in shells, was produced in 1952. But all Ordnance asked for and got during the year was only 325,389 tons.

The report cites a number of military messages blaming the ammunition shortage on the steel strike. In one of them, dated September 7, 1952, General Van Fleet told his Corps and division commanders they would have to cut down the use of ammunition because "in a message the Department of the Army advised that steel strike has seriously affected ammunition production and forecasts a loss of 37 percent in artillery production for 1952."

But the probers charge that the real reason was Ordnance's failure to contract for an adequate supply of ammunition.

Closed Matter — President Eisenhower will not send a diplomatic representative to the Vatican.

This was disclosed by Secretary of State Dulles at a private meeting with leaders of the House Appropriations Committee, Representative Cliff Cleveland (R-O.) raised the question.

"I note you haven't said anything about money for an Ambassador at the Vatican," he said. "Is that an oversight or is the matter in temporary abeyance?"

"It is neither," replied Dulles.

"I said nothing about it because there is no need for funds for that purpose. The President has no plans to send anyone to represent this country at the Vatican. That is a final decision."

Lagging Budget — President Eisenhower has cracked the whip on his cabinet to speed up completion of the Administration's first budget.

He disclosed this himself during lunch with members of Congress.

His original plan was to send his budget, a sharply-reduced version of the final Truman budget, to Congress by March 15. But shortly before that date, congressional leaders were told the budget would not be ready until April 15. Their latest word is May 1.

The President informed his luncheon guests he fixed that deadline himself.

He also warmly lauded the two officials primarily responsible for compiling the new budget—Treasury Secretary George Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph Dodge. He praised them as the ablest members of his official family.

"I never met two more able and conscientious men in my life," the President declared. "It amazes me how much they can say on one sheet of paper. Take Dodge, for example. He says all that needs to be said and not one word more. Business always comes first with him, and he is right to the point. He doesn't mince words. He speaks his mind and that is that. I like that. That's the way I like to have people function."

"Is that the way he is operating in getting up your budget?" asked Representative Tom Steed (D-Okla.). "It seems to be lagging."

"That is no fault of either Dodge or Humphrey," asserted the President. "If it had been up to them, the budget would have been completed long ago. But in our effort to cut expenditures wherever possible, we've encountered tremendous problems. In dealing with them, Dodge and Humphrey are doing a magnificent job. I can assure you of that."

"This will give you an idea of what I mean. At the last Cabinet meeting, Dodge was a few minutes late and Sinclair Weeks (Commerce Secretary) remarked he didn't think Dodge would show up. 'What do you base that on?' I asked, and Weeks replied, 'Well, we all got a pretty sharp letter from him yesterday bluntly ordering us to speed up our budget figures.'"

"I told the cabinet that I didn't know what was delaying Dodge, but I was very sure it wasn't because he had sent that letter. I said I had sent the letter and I didn't think he was tough enough. When they seemed somewhat surprised at that, I explained that I had assured Senator Taft and Speaker Martin I would send my budget to Congress by May 1."

What His Honor did not explain is why 7 of the 8 judges sitting in the same edifice with him—keep theirs open...

Valente did not mention that his position was sustained only 3 to 2 in the Appellate Division and that the Presiding Judge did not agree with him...

He also forgot to mention that the d.a. announced the very next procurer case doors would be open to all...

Valente should explain his peculiar ruling at the start of the Jelke trial: That the prosecutor's case would be closed to the public but the case for the defense would not...

What kind of arithmetic is that?...

P.S.: There has never been a single case dealing with the Mann Act (or White Slavery) in a N. Y. Federal courthouse where the judge slammed the doors in your face.

We all will confer on "neediest" cases this week...

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

One of the sure signs of getting old is when you start landing out advice to the younger folks.

Usually such advice is worth just about what it costs the giver—nothing.

In most cases it is the kind of advice the dispensers didn't take when they were younger and it was given to them.

And, just as in the older days, the young man or woman to whom the advice is given doesn't take it either.

I get letters quite often, after I have handed out a piece of advice, telling me that I must be very, very old.

Such letters usually come from people who have had similar advice before and have not taken it. So when they see it in print, they think that it must have been pretty good advice, after all, and then their conscience hurts them.

And if you want to make a REAL enemy out of a person, just tell him something that hurts his conscience. Like for instance, the truth.

The other day a woman sent me the manuscript of a book she had written. Foolishly I had encouraged her to send it on. She sounded like a nice woman, and she said she needed the money.

I read it. It was pretty awful. Before I told her to send it on I had warned her that I didn't want nice spring weather could be another reason.

What is obviously pure laziness in others is just as obviously only a touch of spring fever in us.

The Dodgers are reported looking for a young baseball star with an Irish name. Well, the training camps are full of green kids!

Walt Johns, a sports writer pal, assures us that Native Dancer is a sure pop to take the Kentucky Derby. Just a wait for that three-year-old, as it were?

Some folk insist that Washington's Japanese cherry blossom trees are really Korean. South Korean, natch!

Martha Little avows that when she was a little girl, a wolf in a nearby wood almost fooled her with the "Little Red Riding Hood" routine. When she marvel- ed, "What big eyes you have!" he assured her, "The better to see you with." When she added, "What big ears you have!" he was ready with "The better to hear you with." But when she got to "And what a big mouth you have!" the outraged wolf blurted out, "Hah! Look's who's talking!"

Incidentally, the New Yorker once ran a story about a kid in a very progressive school who acted in a "Little Red Riding Hood" play along with other students and members of the faculty. She arrived home very disgruntled to report: "We had to change the bill at the last moment to 'The Three Bears.' Our wolf got drafted."

Motor Club Requests More Warning Signals On Foxtown Hill

28 Members Received Into Club

Directors of Pocono Mountains Motor Club recommended to State Highway Department last night that additional warning signals for trucks and vehicles be erected near the top of Foxtown Hill to supplement the warning blinker at the Park Ave. curve on Route 611.

Action came after a huge tractor trailer moving around the curve to go up the hill—tipped over early yesterday morning and caused considerable property damage.

The blinker light was erected by Stroudsburg Council after an application filed by council with the Traffic and Safety Division of the Highway Department was approved.

Gerald P. O'Neill, vice president, conducted last night's meeting in the absence of R. L. Dengler, president.

Plans for the annual meeting April 27 were furthered.

A display designed to acquaint resort hotel and restaurant owners with programs and services of the motor club will be among other local showings at Hotel and Restaurant Show, Pocono Manor, April 21 and 22.

Mrs. John Watt, executive secretary, was authorized to attend the Spring Travel Counselor's School conducted by Pennsylvania Motor Federation at Bedford, Pa., May 4, 5, 6.

Others presented were G. H. Costenbader, Amel Altomese, H. W. Blair, C. M. Learn, M. E. Lettler, Russell Eschback, George Wollbaugh, L. L. Rhodes.

Twenty-eight new members were received, bringing the total to 1,759. They are:

East Stroudsburg: Charles Disposito, Richard S. Kintner, George W. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Litta, Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Potter, Mrs. Dorothy Stettler, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Thulin.

Stroudsburg: Henry M. Buck, J. F. Gruitt, Vernon C. Imbt, Albert Setzer, Granville Shiffer, Mrs. Theodore Getz, Mrs. Fred E. Kinsley, Charles C. Wimer.

Shaffer Named Assessor In East Borough

Paul D. Shaffer, East Stroudsburg, was appointed by commissioners yesterday to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of C. S. Swink as first ward assessor.

Shaffer was running for nomination as assessor on the Democratic ticket. He lives with his wife and three children at 126 Ridgeway St. He is employed as a machinist at Stroudsburg Engine Works.

Cherry Valley Grange Gives Advanced Degrees

Cherry Valley —The regular meeting of the Cherry Valley Grange No. 1821, Stormsville, was held on Thursday night, March 26, with Richard Seidoff, master, presiding. Mrs. Marie Nipthoff was pianist.

The third and fourth degrees of the grange were given to Mrs. Sofia Grundke, Mrs. Marianne Schmitt, Mrs. Hilda Houck, Miss Grace Halterman, Miss Shirley Stout, Robert Allen Rogers and Samuel Getz Jr.

Andrew Teachman, state deputy from Mount Prospect Grange, Matamoras, spoke on "Enthusiasm in the Grange." Mrs. Christine Teachman, Mrs. Merly, L. Laubscher and Emil Laubscher, from Mt. Prospect Grange, also spoke briefly.

After the meeting a covered dish supper was served, featuring a birthday cake in honor of Sheldon Schober.

The next grange meeting will be held Tuesday night, April 14.

County To Make Building Repairs

Check on prices for making miscellaneous repairs to the outside of the Court House was ordered by commissioners yesterday.

After costs are determined, commissioners may consider some minor repairs to the interior, too.

DEATHS

FLANAGAN, Thomas Joseph, in East Stroudsburg, March 30. Aged 70 years. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral services Wednesday April 1 at 9:30 a.m. from the St. Matthew's Catholic Church. Interment in the Church cemetery. Viewing at Lanterman's funeral home 7-9 p.m. Tuesday.

LEADING THE MEMBERS of Temple Israel at the Seder, or Passover feast, at the temple last night in East Stroudsburg is Rabbi Maurice Idell. Here, he raises a sprig of parsley during the traditional ceremony, symbolizing the coming of Spring, with added connotations of "hope, life and redemption". At the rabbi's left his father, Rabbi Hillel Idell, and at his right, (back to camera) his wife, Anit. (Daily Record Photo)

Passover Dates Back More Than 3,000 Years, One Of Oldest Festivals In World

Passover is one of the oldest festivals in the world. It has been observed by Jews, with unbroken regularity, for more than three thousand years.

Although known primarily as a holiday of freedom or a season of liberation, since it falls in the Spring of the year, in the Hebrew month of Nisan (March-April in calendar months), it is also a season of welcoming Spring.

Services Held In Memory Of Ghetto Revolt

Jerusalem (AP) — Passover, the Jewish feast of liberation and freedom, was ushered in here last night with a divine service on Mt. Zion in memory of the Warsaw ghetto revolt exactly ten Passovers ago.

The same flag which was raised on the ghetto wall as a symbol of belief in final victory flew from Mt. Zion Synagogue, highest spot in the holy city.

Later, from the hills of Galilee to the Red Sea families sat down to the traditional "seder meal" with wine and unleavened bread recalling the hasty exodus from Egypt 3,500 years ago.

The Tel Aviv Hebrew daily, Haaretz, in an editorial said the last few days of easing international tension contributed to an increased festive mood here.

College Heads Draft Statement

Princeton, N. J. (AP) — The Association of American Universities yesterday said flatly that Communists — by the nature of their belief — are disqualified for university positions.

In a 10-page policy statement drafted by five university presidents, the AAU asserted that unless a faculty member violates a law, his "discipline or discharge is a university responsibility and should not be assumed by political authority."

"Discipline on the basis of irresponsible accusations or suspicion can never be condoned," the statement said. "... universities are bound to deprecate special loyalty tests which are applied to their faculties but to which others are not subjected."

Four Youths Linked To Vandalism

Four Stroudsburg High School youths will be questioned by police today about costly vandalism on the school grounds.

The destruction has been going on for about a month, Stroudsburg police learned from school officials yesterday afternoon.

Damages were expected to run into several hundred dollars, police said.

There are more than four boys involved, according to police. All the youngsters are not known at the moment, but investigation is being started.

Police said the four youths accused of some of the vandalism are 12 or 13 years old.

School authorities have been carrying on their own investigation for about a month, and did not report the destruction to police until yesterday, an officer said.

Spotlights in the ball park were shattered with steel arrows; a door was torn off a ticket booth; new wire was ripped off the practice batting cage. These were some of the acts of destruction police will check into today.

Audit Hearing Is Scheduled For Saturday

Hearing on a taxpayers appeal from the 1950 Monroe County audit is scheduled for Saturday morning at the Court House.

Presiding at the special session will be Judge Edward P. Little, Montrose, president judge of Susquehanna County. The hearing has been postponed several times.

First action on the appeal occurred June 2, 1950.

President Judge Fred W. Davis will also hold court Saturday to handle any routine matters which may come up, his office staff said.

Treasurer's Salary Same As Last Year

Yearly salary of Percy A. Rockefeller, county treasurer, was fixed yesterday by commissioners and county auditors.

There will be no change from last year. The rate will remain: compensation of three per cent on the first $60,000 of general fund receipts and disbursements, and half of one per cent on the balance; and 1.5 per cent commission on institution district receipts and disbursements.

Churches To Donate Eggs

Members of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, will again cooperate with the fresh egg appeal from the several Lutheran children's homes and orphanages (Germantown, Good Shepherd and Topton, during the Easter season.

All members of the Sunday School and congregation are asked to take their fresh egg donations to the Sunday School chapel anytime before Tuesday, April 7. Last year 150 dozen eggs were sent.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Smithfield, Craigs Meadows, will again cooperate with this appeal and combine their donation with that of Grace Church.

Math Teachers To Plan Tourney

Monroe County mathematics teachers will meet tonight at 7:30 at the home of Miss Ruth Flory, Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Final plans for the annual math tourney in April will be drafted. John Eaton will speak on "Composing Music according to Mathematical Formulae."

Police Return Lost Check To Newark Man

A lost $163.47 check was returned to Philip H. Cease, of Newark, N.J., when he showed up at the Stroudsburg police station, an officer said yesterday.

Cease said he lost the check Friday between Wilkes-Barre and his home, Stroudsburg was the only place he could have lost it, he figured, because it was the only stop he made.

The check was found outside the diner where Cease had eaten dinner.

Mrs. Brown, 95, Dies At Home Here

Mrs. Alice Mutchler Brown, 95, died at 11 p.m. Sunday at her home, 509 Thomas St., Stroudsburg. She had been the oldest living graduate of Millersville State Teachers College for many years.

Born in Barnaboo, Wis., Mrs. Brown had spent most of her life in Stroudsburg. Her husband, the late Daniel R. Brown, died 25 years ago.

She was a member of Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

She had resided here with her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. P. Mutchler and a niece May H. Mutchler. Other survivors include nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the home, 509 Thomas St. tonight.

Funeral services will be held at Daniel H. Warner funeral home, N. 9th St. at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Rev. Ernest T. Campbell will conduct services. Interment will be made in Stroudsburg Cemetery.

Mrs. Crooks Resigns From Board Of General Hospital

Famed singer Richard Crooks and his wife will give up their official residence in Monroe County this Spring and move to California.

The news came out at a meeting of the General Hospital board of directors last night. Mrs. Crooks, a member of the board, turned in her resignation.

Her explanation was that the couple's children are all living in California, so the elder Crooks have bought a home there too.

Mr. and Mrs. Crooks, who have been living at Buck Hill Park, will return to the county for a one or two-months visit each Fall, Mrs. Crooks said.

The board was concerned mostly last night with plans for Civil Defense emergencies.

The current aim is to establish an emergency 325-bed hospital and have four operating rooms ready to use in the event of disaster.

To this end the board plans to have experts called in to instruct the nurses and staff members in emergency techniques and radiation treatment. There will also be lectures by CD authorities and movies on the subject.

A check to help pay for an emergency lighting and power system at the hospital was presented by Miss Almee V. Girard, Stroudsburg, who was a patient at the hospital during the ice storm last winter.

She said she admired the way the staff handled the emergency which left the structure powerless and heatless for about four hours, but felt that the hospital should have an auxiliary system for emergencies.

96 Members Enrolled In C. Of C. Drive

Ninety-six memberships were reported yesterday by 30 members of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce membership campaign committee.

H. G. Sanborn Jr., chairman of the drive, president at the luncheon report meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Yesterday's return brings total memberships obtained in the current effort to 135.

A breakdown on old and new memberships, points for competing team members and other details will be announced today at the campaign office.

Next report meeting will be held next Monday noon—a luncheon meeting in the Penn-Stroud.

Frankenfield, Shupp Draw No. 1 Spots

Associate Judge Homer A. Shupp, Effort, drew number one spot on the Democratic ballot, and Dayton W. Frankenfield, Stroudsburg, drew the same position on the Republican ballot for associate judge at Harrisburg yesterday.

Wherever contests were involved for candidates who filed nominations with the Bureau of Elections, a drawing for ballot positions was held.

John T. Smith, Mount Pocono, won second position on the Democratic ballot and Charles A. Keiper, Stroudsburg, is in third spot.

Joseph S. Price, Canadensis, has the second spot on the Republican ballot for associate judge.

Two Couples Seek Licenses

Two couples applied for marriage licenses, the prothonotary's office said yesterday.

They were Harry F. Whitmore and Betty J. VanWhy; and Nelson N. Remy and Joanne C. Toohy, all of Stroudsburg.

Walter Sees Approval Of Airport Fund

Budget for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, which contains a sum earmarked for development of Mount Pocono Airport, stands a good chance of being approved.

That was the opinion Rep. Francis E. Walter, (D-Pa.) expressed in a letter to county commissioners yesterday.

Commissioners had written urging that the congressman use his influence to see that the funds earmarked for the local airport development be retained in the budget.

"I am not unmindful of the CAA appropriation being considered," he wrote in part.

"The request of the agency appears to be in excellent shape," he concluded.

Home Rule In Public Health To Be Aired

A session on public health administration in Pennsylvania on Friday morning, April 10, will highlight the 61st annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society at Buck Hill Falls on April 8, 9 and 10.

Three speakers will discuss the movement in Pennsylvania to decentralize the state program on public health and establish county health departments. The first speaker will be Dr. Russell E. Teague, State secretary of health, who will have as his topic "Sound Public Health Administration."

Another speaker will be Norman A. Peil, of Easton, on the subject "Home Rule In Public Health." Mr. Peil is chairman of the Board of Commissioners of Northampton County and chairman of the Legislative Committee of the State Association of County Commissioners.

The third speaker will be David H. Kurtzman, Ph.D., of Pittsburgh, on "New Standards in Public Health Administration." Dr. Kurtzman is assistant director and director of Research of the Western Division of the Pennsylvania Economy League.

There will be special sessions of interest to physicians on Thursday when the Pennsylvania Trudeau Society, medical section of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, will hold its annual meeting. The day's program will include a round table discussion on the subject "Chest X-ray Survey Programs in General Hospitals."

A business meeting of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society will be held Thursday afternoon.

The Pennsylvania Conference of Tuberculosis Workers will meet at the same time at Buck Hill Falls. Its meeting will be held Wednesday night.

At the closing session of the conference at noon Friday the speaker will be Rene J. Dubos, Ph.D., a member of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research of New York, who will discuss "Germs, Infection, Disease and Drugs."

The conference will open with a Christmas Seal Sale session on Wednesday morning. A feature of this session will be an address on "You and You and You" by Frens B. Snyder, president of the Delaware County Tuberculosis and Health Association and secretary of the Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society.

Reuther Asks Ike's View On T-H Changes

Washington (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther said yesterday he feels President Eisenhower has a "moral obligation" to suggest specific changes in the Taft-Hartley labor law since he advocated revisions during his election campaign.

Reuther told the Senate Labor Committee he thinks Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin has the same obligation.

Both Senate and House Labor Committees are holding hearings on proposed T-H law changes, but the administration has not sponsored any amendments.

Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) of the Senate committee told Reuther he believes the administration wants Congress to develop the pros and cons.

Sen. Neely (D-W. Va.), turning to Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), Senate majority leader and an author of the present law, said:

"If you had been elected President last November, Sen. Taft, instead of Gen. Eisenhower, I think you would have sent us recommendations as to what we should do, and not leave us floundering around like this."

Taft didn't reply. Secretary Durkin said in an interview yesterday he hopes to have some testimony for Congress on the controversial labor relations law. He said the Labor Department lawyers are studying all the proposed amendments.

Reuther, in his Senate testimony, called for "drastic" changes in the law. He asked for elimination of the law's present injunction provisions. He said he also wants the closed shop, now banned by law.

William Pollack, executive vice president of the CIO Textile Workers Union, told the House committee Taft-Hartley restrictions have brought union organizing, especially in the South, "to a dead halt."

Pollack said unless the law is changed Southern workers may "explode into economic revolt against those who have exploited them for so long."

Have You Ever Had a Meal on The Phoebe Snow?

Some of our epicurean friends have been gracious enough to say that it's worth taking a trip on the Lackawanna just to have one of those delicious home-style meals served in the Phoebe Snow diner.

Here, amid the surroundings of a smart, intimate restaurant, skilled chefs delight in pampering your appetite with a wide variety of delicacies... Luscious, light-crusted apple-pie, oozing with juice... thick sizzling steaks... crusty corn kobs... and marvelous coffee!

Best of all, the prices are right! A complete dinner from soup to dessert—costs as little as $2.15.

Go Lackawanna

Your Bonds can lead a double life!

Now your maturing Series E Defense Bonds can earn for 10 years more...at 3%

Now, those Series E Bonds which have been quietly earning money for you for ten years can continue to earn interest... at 3% compounded semiannually... for ten more years. Your investment can return you as much as 80% over the original purchase price.

And there is nothing whatever for you to do. Just keep holding your Bonds as you have been. The continued earning period is absolutely automatic. The Bond you got for $18.75 can now pay you $33.67... a $37.50 Bond will be worth $67.34... and so on.

This is true of all Series E Bonds—the ones you own now and any you may invest in in the future. Every Bond you invest in now starts earning interest sooner and matures earlier, too.

Of course, any Series E Bond may still be redeemed at any time after you have held it for two months. But you'll be smart to hold on to it if you possibly can, just as you hold on to savings in any form.

8 million Americans now save regularly with Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. Are you one of them? If you're not, why not start now? Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's one sure way to save because it saves something out of every check before you have a chance to spend it.

No matter how small your income, you know you can't afford not to put something aside for yourself. So strengthen your own future and that of your country by saving your money in U. S. Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. Or if you're self-employed, start a Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. It's safe, it's sure, it's automatic!

Now even better! Invest more in Defense Bonds!

THEIR CLOTHES AREN'T 'OLD HAT'

MRS. ROBERT AUXIER of Forest Hills, Pa., doesn't have to worry about meeting another woman who is wearing clothes exactly like hers. Hazel and her husband, Bob, can boast of "exclusives" in their wardrobes because she weaves her own cloth. She fashions jackets, coats and hats from her own hand-loomed materials. The finished cloth resembles expensive Scotch tweeds. The Auxiers, members of Weavers'

Guild of Pittsburgh, took up the art as a hobby but soon it meant a saving in clothing bills. Bob built his wife their first hand loom in 1947, but she outgrew it and he had to construct a larger 12-harness, 14-treadle loom. Since then, Hazel has woven winter coats, a topcoat, summer dress, bridge cloths, napkins, guest towels, upholstery fabric and place mats. Her entries have also won prizes at arts, crafts shows.

Monroe County In District To Be Invaded By Brood 10, Largest Of Locust Families

Monroe, Lackawanna and Luzerne Counties are in the eastern and south-central counties of the state in which Brood 10 of the 17-year locust—the periodical cicada—will make its appearance in late May or early June.

Brood 10, according to the State Department of Agriculture, is the largest of nine locust families appearing in Pennsylvania.

There are 30 different broods in the United States and most of them are limited to fairly definite areas.

Department Entomologist A. B. Champlain reported at Harrisburg the locust, except for the 13-year variety inhabiting the southern states, spend 16 years burrowed underground feeding on juices of plants and trees.

He said the insects can be expected to emerge from the soil in late May or early June—depending on the temperature—and reach their peak about mid-June. They disappear in about six weeks.

The insects mate on emergence from the soil. The female then cuts long slits in twigs or plant stems sometime causing extensive damages to trees by weakening branches.

The only protective measure to be taken are to cover the trees with mosquito netting or spraying the trees with "Tep." Champlain said "Tep" is a pyrophosphate recommended by Pennsylvania State College Extension Agent John Pepper. Spray must be applied directly to the locust and requires careful handling due to its poisonous nature.

Miss Harriette Taylor Is Bride Of John Irvin Price

Miss Harriette Margaret Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Taylor, of 125 First St., Stroudsburg, and John Irvin Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irvin Price, of 1085 West Main St., Stroudsburg, were married on Friday night, March 27, at 8 p. m., at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Rev. Roger Stinson performed the ceremony. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white gladiolus. Albert Fregans, organist, played for the ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a powder blue suit with navy blue and pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

She was attended by Mrs. William Taylor, of 720 Main St., Stroudsburg, as matron of honor. Mrs. Taylor wore a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. William Taylor served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue print dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for about 35 guests was held in the social rooms of the church which had been decorated with white wedding bells and streamers.

After a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will make their home at 1085 West Main Street. The bride is a senior at Stroudsburg High School and serves as office clerk at Community Jewelers. Mr. Price, who was graduated from Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1951 is serving in the U. S. Army.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Office drawers need housecleaning, too, once in a while and you have to be ruthless about what you discard, especially if you're equipped with a hording instinct like the squirrel. Old Christmas cards, a thank-you note from last year, old fashion cuts, some recipes you thought you might print some time, and notes on engagements long since ended in weddings—out they go.

However, the poems I cherish for myself, even though I know they can't be published because of office rules. Have a couple of ones about gardens that would fit in just now, too. Oh well, I can enjoy them anyway.

Oh here's an item I can mention that Mrs. Mader remembers, too, hearing the folks talk about having an older sister or brother dance in a pig trough when a younger member beat them to the altar—so you see I didn't make that up.

However, the year books from 1950-51 have to go, along with the annual report of some organization or other and the bag numbers of the Girl Scout Nosebags.

After several hours of that, it is good to get out in the night with the clouds seudding fast across the moon and the wind whipping your coat like a flag. Good to get the cobwebs out of your head as well as out of the desk drawers.

Recent guests of Mrs. Richard Metzgar were Mrs. Lulu Miller of Stroudsburg and Mrs. Elmer Marsh and Mrs. Carl Tach, of Saylorsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bond Monday night, March 23, honored their married daughter, Mrs. Lewis Hawley at a birthday dinner. Others present were Mr. Lewis Hawley with children Lewis Russell and Katrina, Beverly and Bruce Bond.

Another celebration in the Bond home last week was their twenty-second wedding anniversary. Thursday, March 26, of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bond. We have four children and two grandchildren as reason to celebrate those years, Mrs. Bond stated happily.

The Jolly Jane Club postponed its meeting scheduled for March 24 indefinitely because of illness in the home of the hostess, Mrs. Warren Schreck, of Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Earl Learn with daughter Jean and Mrs. Robert Field with son Johnny attended the Pre-School Clinic at Chestnut Hill High School Monday morning, March 23. Verdon Frailey Wednesday, March 25, drove to Harrisburg to attend an insurance agents' meeting.

Beverly Bond missed several days of school due to illness last week.

A breakfast party was given by Mrs. Robert Field Wednesday morning, March 25, from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Refreshments consisting of orange juice, coffee, doughnuts and homemade sugar-shape cookies were served by Mrs. Field to: Mrs. Donald Hartman, daughter Donna Lee, Mrs. Richard Metzgar, Mrs. Harold Sprague, Mrs. Joseph Dunbar, daughter Joanne, Mrs. Verdon Frailey, Mr. John Hartman, son Bruce, Mrs. Clyde Beecher, son Fred, Mrs. Cummings, daughter Judy Anne and Jacqueline, Mrs. Leroy Paul and daughter Linda of Appenzell and Johnny Field. Mrs. Paul was the demonstrator. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Frailey, Mrs. John Hartman and Mrs. John Cummings.

Home with the birds are many local residents who have wintered in the South. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gottler, with sons Bobby and Randy toured Florida from March 7-17. During the week they spent in St. Petersburg with Mrs. Ann Gottler, Mrs. Gottler's mother, they gathered sea shells and did some swimming. Taking Route 301 home, they traveled in pace with Mrs. Gottler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Mott, of Swiftwater, who brought their trailer home along back from Haines City, Florida. Mr. Mott lost some weight and was not feeling up to par for the journey but expects to get back his health promptly in the Poconos.

In Washington, D. C., the party visited with the Mott's daughter, Thelma, who is Mrs. Thomas Brennan. They were surprised to meet the James Canfields, Sr., also enroute home from the south via D. C. A check revealed that the Gottlers much prefer our local strawberries to the Florida ones. Chamber of Commerce, please note! Mrs. Gottler was planning a party in honor of her sister, Mrs. Brennan was to be in Bartonsville this past weekend, March 28, 29.

Young people aged twelve and over who have been attending the Monday night series of Confirmation Classes conducted by Rev. John B. Bergstresser are readying their white robes for confirmation services to be conducted Easter Sunday, 2:30 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Bartonsville. Anita Ace, Beverly Hartman and Thomas Field from this community will be confirmed.

Good Friday service in the Hamilton Lutheran Parish will be a joint worship conducted by Rev. John B. Bergstresser from 12:00 noon to 3:00 p.m. at Zion Church, Brodheadsville.

Easter sunrise service is scheduled for 6:00 a.m. April 5 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Bartonsville. The Matins Service as found in the Common Service Book, has been announced for that day, plus special music, all Hamilton Lutheran churches contributing to this joint service.

Easter Receives Name From Viking Goddess: Other Facts About Festival Symbols Noted

By M. E. Byrne

Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

Of the many millions throughout the world who today look forward to the observance of the great Christian festival of Easter, commemorating the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, few realize that this great Christian festival derived its name from a heathen Norse goddess, Ostara, who symbolized spring and sunshine and the green rebirth of nature after the white death of winter.

Just as the days of the week were derived from the names of such Teutonic gods as Tiu, Wotan or Odin, Thor, Freyja Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday—so was the word Easter taken from Ostara or Eostre as the old Teutons also called her.

In ancient times the deeply devout ecclesiastical leaders strove to avoid the name of the lovely but pagan Ostara becoming identified with the great sacred festival of Christendom but they could not overcome a custom derived from antiquity.

Easter became Easter and with the name there has survived some of the ancient pre-Christian customs of the Teutonic peoples. For instance, in certain areas of Scandinavia Easter bonfires are set ablaze in honor of the ancient goddess.

As long ago as the year 753, St. Boniface condemned such practice but the Viking race was too stubborn. In fact, some historians are quick to point out that the church may have adopted the original significance of the Easter bonfire in the Easter candle and Easter lamp which burn throughout the year.

In medieval times it was the custom to extinguish the Easter candle and lamp on Good Friday, to be relit from a new fire kindled by flint and steel, on Easter Eve. From this fire the hearths of all the parish were ignited.

Another ancient Easter or spring symbol of the Teutons was the egg, as being emblematic of the new life of the budding earth. Christians could and did easily accept the egg as symbolizing the Resurrection—for like the unshakened life within the egg did not the crucified Christ lay sleeping in the sepulchre for three days?

Many years ago the custom of coloring the eggs at Easter time was adopted in order to differentiate them from the eggs eaten in periods of the year. Candy Easter eggs are a fairly modern addition.

Another custom of today is the display of the snowy flower called the Easter lily—white being the color of Easter but this has nothing to do with ancient Easter-Ostara for white was, even in early

Some Easter symbols—lilies, colored eggs, rabbit and chick.

Christian times, the liturgical color of Easter, symbolizing light, purity and joy.

Today's Easter bunny, however, is a fairly modern development, substituting for the spring or Easter lamb. The chick, too, is a more or less addition to the galaxy of Easter symbols.

Easter this year falls in April, as it will also for the next five years and April was, as the old Anglo-Saxons called it, Eostre-monath (the Month of Eostre), was dedicated by them to Ostara.

Oddly enough, there is no mention of the observance of Easter as a festival in the New Testament so the custom must have begun after the last of the Great Books which comprise it were written.

In the early days of Christianity there was a wide difference of opinion when Easter should be celebrated. With Christians of Jewish descent the Lenten fast ended on the fourteenth day of the moon, the Easter festival being celebrated immediately following, regardless of what day of the week it might be.

Christians of Gentile extraction insisted on observing Easter on the Sunday following Good Friday, the day of the Crucifixion. Today Easter is the first Sunday of the full moon following the Vernal Equinox, which, of course, makes it a movable feast.

Since 1900 various groups, some of them commercially interested, have attempted to have Easter observed on a fixed date of the year but not much progress has been made—though the matter was even once referred to the League of Nations. The International Congress of Chambers of Commerce in 1923 reaffirmed a fixed date Easter resolution and addressed it to the Vatican.

In 1928 the Easter act was passed in England, fixing the festival as being on the first Sunday after the first Saturday in April. However, this observance was contingent of international acceptance.

So, it looks as though for some years to come the date of the Easter festival will be as variable as the winds that whistle through the bare tree branches of March and the sudden showers that dance in and out during April.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Anatomink's announcement on Sunday that it had enough players in the fold to field a baseball team in the Pocono Mountains League during the 1953 campaign came as good news to many people and undoubtedly prevented a lot of hard feelings between various individuals. Although very little had been said on the subject, Anatomink's future remained in doubt right up until Sunday's business meeting held at the home of Dave Bescher.

If Anatomink would have failed to obtain a suitable number of players to operate during the coming campaign, the 10th team in the league would have been George N. Kemp American Legion Post. The team was represented at the March meeting of the Pocono Mountains League at the Eastonville Hotel. The fact that Anatomink is ready to go will allow the PML to operate with the same 10 clubs as last year. The league thoroughly discussed Anatomink's future at the most recent meeting.

Ray Davies, well known athletic figure and former coach, will probably manage the American Legion baseball team during the coming summer, although no official announcement along this line has been released. The kids of American Legion age and several officials in the local legion post are reportedly all in favor of having Davies at the helm. Davies can have the help of several well known diamond figures in this area, as many people and virtually all kids want the American Legion baseball organization to continue.

Davies formerly played baseball with Del Davis, assistant football and basketball coach at East Stroudsburg High school, on the old Harrison Park club. Del, who managed the American Legion squad for a portion of last season, has already volunteered to help Davies during the coming campaign. Anatomink is absolutely certain of 16 players, but has at least six others on the probable list. Not included on either list is Charley Coslar, who reportedly wants to play for Anatomink when he receives his discharge from the Navy in the very near future.

Coslar is a former Polk High athletic star and also piloted the Redders entry in the Pocono Mountains League for a brief time before entering the Navy. Charley is a highly regarded catcher. Speaking of Redders brings to mind the fact that the club had a total of 25 players on hand at its first practice session of the season last Sunday. Harry Warner, a resident of Redders currently battling for the first base job with Toledo, of the American Association, was hitting at a .483 clip during the early exhibition contests.

Damage inflicted on various articles at Gordon Giffels field and nearby areas recently was undoubtedly the work of some kids who have a terrible idea as to what actually constitutes a good time. The batting cage was just rewired and made ready for action. Those involved in the escape quickly unscrewed the piece of machinery and made it unfit for operation. The group also damaged the ticket booth, spot lights and other lights in the area. It certainly is a disgusting shame that vandals must prey on scholastic athletics.

Bob Lamson and Bill Bennett, both of Allentown, played with Newman's Dress Shop in the senior division of the Monroe County YMCA Elimination Basketball Tournament last night. Lefty Katz, another Allentown cager scheduled to play with Newman's club, was unable to appear because of a previous commitment to an all-star basketball squad for the same date. Although Lamson made a bit with the crowd, his fine performance wasn't enough and DeVivo's Shoemen went on to hang up a convincing 96-60 victory.

Li Joan Cole, former goalie for the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College field hockey team, visited with Miss Genevieve Zimbar, well known ESSTC coach, during recent days. Li Cole is a member of the Women's Army Corps and is scheduled to leave Camp Kilmer for Europe in the very near future. Alden "Red" Featherman, former three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High school, is listed as both a pitcher and outfielder on the roster of the Scranton entry in the class "A" Eastern League. Featherman is currently in training at Winter Garden, Fla.

Danny O'Connell, third baseman with Bloomsdale, N. J., of the North Atlantic League in 1946, is scheduled to open the season at second base for the Pittsburgh Pirates. O'Connell was the regular Pittsburgh shortstop before being drafted into the Army two years ago. The American Automobile Association, one of the main racing bodies in the United States, made a very popular move recently when it condemned the use of public highways for any kind of automobile racing. In other words—don't copy the racing tactics of the open highways. A practice of this type may result in the loss of a life—and it may be yours.

DeVivo, Newman Cagers Win YMCA Tourney Battles

Both Earn Positions In Final Round

Newman's Dress Shop and DeVivo's Shoemen advanced to the final round of the junior and senior divisions respectively in the Monroe County YMCA Elimination Basketball Tournament last night. Both teams turned in victories on the YMCA court.

Mt. Pocono Diner felt the sting of Newman's power in the first of two contests last night, 70-56, while DeVivo's club demonstrated its true power in the nightcap with a 96-60 verdict over Newman's Dress Shop.

Newman's junior division club was the complete master of its game with Mt. Pocono. The Stroudsburg team held the upper hand in the first and final periods, but the margin was enough in each case to keep the ultimate winner in front from start to finish.

Mt. Pocono faced a 19-11 deficit at the end of the first quarter and trailed 32-25 at the halfway mark. Mt. Pocono had the better of the going in the third round, 15-13, but Newman's club came back to cement victory in the final round, with a 25-16 bulge in the point production.

Newman's club made good on eight of 13 foul shots, while Mt. Pocono found the range from the same distance on 12 of 19 tosses. Dave Nevil and Dick Little won top scoring honors in a winning game with 23 and 18 points respectively. Jim Kinsey, Don Kinsey, Andy Sapp and Francis Yakita topped the Mt. Pocono point list with 13, 12, 12, and 12 counters respectively.

Big Margin
DeVivo's club demonstrated its true power against a strengthened Newman's cage machine in the nightcap of the doubleheader. DeVivo's five held the upper hand in every period and turned the contest into a runaway after the first few minutes of play.

Bob Lamson, of Allentown, kept Newman's club in the contest during the early portion of the first period, but once Henry "Hank" Stetler found the scoring range the outcome of the battle was only a matter of time. Stetler finished the game with 34 points, on 13 goals from the field and eight from the foul line. Lamson led the losing attack with 22 counters.

DeVivo's club moved into the championship round by leading 24-10 at the quarter, 45-27 at half-time and 70-45 at the three quarter mark. The Shoemen made certain victory with a 26-15 advantage during the last 10 minutes of play.

Newman's club made good on 20 of 36 foul shots, while the Shoemen registered 20 of 28 charity tosses.

Today's semi-final round will feature one contest in each division on the same court. Pocono Manor Service Station and Cyphers Service Station will meet in a junior contest at 7:15 p.m., while Biggs Restaurant and Frank's Barbers clash in a senior struggle at 8:20 p.m.

Haney Certain Of Only Two Starting Jobs

By Joe Reichler

HANCOCK (AP)—Manager Fred Haney, by his own admission, has only two big league ball players, aside from his batterymen, but he insisted yesterday his Pittsburgh Pirates will be a better club than last year.

"They couldn't possibly be worse," he added with a laugh. "That was the sorriest looking ball club that was ever put together. Why, the rest of the league considered them a joke. They weren't good enough to play Triple 'A' ball."

But that was last year. How about this year's club?

Haney pondered for a moment or so as he watched his noble athletes indulging in batting practice under the lights at Gran Stadium, wiped the perspiration off his brow with a large red handkerchief, and said meaningly:

Statement

"Well, we're going to be respectable. You can bet on that. We're not going to be the butt of any jokes like we were last year."

"We probably won't finish in the first division. And we might even finish last. But we won't be any pushovers. We're going to give these second division clubs a helluva battle before we're through."

Haney said right now he was sure of only two positions. Ralph Kiner definitely is the left fielder barring a trade and Danny O'Connell is the second baseman.

The other five infield and outfield positions were up for grabs. The most impressive looking rookies are outfielders Felipe Montemayor and Frank Thomas. Montemayor, a tall, rangy 25-year-old Cuban is on the New Orleans roster but he will be transferred to the Pirates any day now. He can run, field and hit a long ball. He has trouble hitting the curve ball, but that's a fault common in many big leaguers.

Thomas, the slugging sensation of the Southern Association last year, can do everything but throw. He is hampered by a sore arm. Rookie Carlos Bernier has shown flashes of speed and field ability. Cal Abrams is nursing a bad back.

"My infield consists of one man—O'Connell," he said. "He's by far my best second baseman, shortstop and third baseman. But since I have nobody else to play second, O'Connell has to be there."

Dick Cole, who played for Haney at Hollywood last year, currently is the number one shortstop. He is "the good-field, no-hit" type. Pete Castiglione has the edge at third.

First Base

Rookie Al Grundwald, the six foot, three inch ex-serviceman, who was expected to take over first base, has been a keen disappointment to Haney. Fred may be forced to go back to veteran George Metkovich or give the job to rookie Paul Smith, a fancy fielding outfielder whose chief drawback is lack of height. He is only five feet, 10 inches tall.

Righthander Murry Dickson (14-21) and southpaw Howie Pollet (7-16) again will head the pitching staff.

The catching will be handled by Joe Garagiola, Mike Sandlock and either Eddie Fitzgerald or Joe Rossi. Vic Janowicz, the All-American football player from Ohio State, must be kept at least two years.

Langlois Earns Unanimous Nod Over Beau After Slow Start

BROOKLYN (AP)—Pierre Langlois of France, the world's fourth ranking middleweight, scored an unanimous 10 round decision over Jimmy Beau of New Canaan, Conn., in a televised fight at Eastern Parkway Arena last night. Langlois, a 12-5 favorite, weighed 161 to 159 for Beau.

High School Kegler Shines In ABC Match

CHICAGO (AP)—Pat Romano, 16, of Toledo, O., who has been bowling only two years, rolled a 702 series yesterday to tie for eighth place in the singles event of the American Bowling Congress Tourney.

The high school junior, making his first ABC appearance, had games of 196, 279 and 227.

Misses

He piled up nine strikes in a row in the second game, but missed a possible perfect 300 score when the number 10 pin stood on his 10th ball.

He made his spare and then got another strike.

ABC officials said he was possibly the youngest contestant in ABC tournament history to record a 700 series.

Sauer To Miss Opening Game

Mesa, Ariz. (AP)—Injured Hank Sauer, the National League's most valuable player last season, will miss the Chicago Cubs' 1953 opener against Cincinnati April 14.

Shattered

X-rays of outfielder Sauer's fractured right little finger yesterday disclosed the digit still is "severely shattered."

A doctor said Sauer will be inactive for at least three more weeks.

Pellegrini Stops Stout In Seventh

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Alvin Pellegrini, 18-year-old New Orleans welterweight, scored a seventh round knockout over Eddy Stout, a Ft. Benning, Ga., soldier last night in the feature match.

End

Pellegrini weighed 144½ and Stout, an Oklahoma Indian, 144½. The knockout came at 2:56 of the seventh in the scheduled 10 round bout.

Andrews Earns Verdict

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Andrews, 158, Oliver, Wis., won an unanimous eight round decision last night over Joe Laudanski, 161½, East Chicago, Ind., in the main boxing event at Rainbo Arena.

Retains Ring Crown

LEWISTON, Me. (AP)—Larry Griffin, 144½, Auburn, retained his state welterweight title last night by outpointing Terry Ryan 146½, Portland, in a 10-round bout.

Thorpe's Medals In Other Hands

NEW YORK (AP)—The medals Jim Thorpe won in the 1912 Olympic games and which he hoped, to the day of his death, would some day be returned, still are in the hands of the men who finished second in the decathlon and pentathlon competitions.

The other trophies are in the Olympic Museum at Lausanne, Switzerland.

Professional

The medals and trophies were taken away from Thorpe when he was declared to have been a professional when he won the two Olympic all-around events.

They were given to Ferdinand R. Bie of Norway and Huga Wieslander, of Sweden, who had finished second and were later named as the "official" winners of the pentathlon.

Berg Wins At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Defending Champion Patty Berg won the 53-560 New Orleans Women's Open Golf Tournament yesterday with a final round one under par 76.

Her total for the 54-hole tourney was 227, four under par, and gave the St. Andrews, Ill., golfer top money of $975.

Second Place

Veteran Babe Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., finished four strokes back with a par 231 for second money of $630.

Jackie Pung, the buxom Hawaiian playing out of Glasgow, Ky., broke a three-way tie for third with a final round 80. Her 54-hole total of 233 was good for third and $390.

Indians Crush Giants, 13-6

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians walloped the New York Giants again yesterday, 13-6, before a crowd of 7,463, an attendance record for Albuquerque's Tingley Field.

Three Hurlers

The American Leaguers pounded out 15 hits off New York pitchers Dave Koslo, Jim Hearn and Mottis Kennedy. Five of the blows were home runs.

Kiner's Homer Goes To Waste

HAVANA, (AP)—Ralph Kiner hit his first home run of the spring training season yesterday but it was wasted effort as the Pittsburgh Pirates "A" squad lost to the "B" squad, 6-4.

Fourth Frame

Kiner's homer came in the fourth inning with nobody on. It was the only run yielded by winning pitcher Howie Pollet in six innings.

Hornets Eliminate Bears, 7-5

HERSHEY, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Hornets nosed out the Hershey Bears, 7 to 5, in an extra period to win the first round of the playoffs for the Calder Cup and the American Hockey League championship here last night.

The Hornets made it three straight in the best-of-five series to eliminate the Bears from any further chance at the 1953 title.

Payoff

Early in the extra period Johnny McLellan passed from behind the Bears' net. The puck struck the back of Gordie Henry's skates and rebounded into the Bears' net for the winning goal.

St. Bonaventure Refuses To Renew Melvin's Cage Contract

Olean, N. Y. (AP)—St. Bonaventure University announced last night Ed Melvin was through as head basketball coach.

The Rev. Silas Rooney, O. F. M. athletic director said in a statement:

"St. Bonaventure's athletic authorities today announced termination of Basketball Coach Ed Melvin's contract. A successor will be named in the near future."

Father Rooney said he was "not free at this time to name a new coach." Melvin's contract terminates today.

Father Rooney and the university declined any further comment.

Earlier, Melvin, 38, disclosed the decision to newsmen and said:

"I guess my record wasn't good enough."

The salary for the post has never been disclosed, but the Buffalo Courier-Express said it was $6,500 a year and one of the highest in the country for a basketball coach.

Record

Melvin-coached teams have won 98 and lost 46 in regular play over the last six seasons. The Brown Indians played in the National Catholic Invitation Tournament in Denver and in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans after the 1950-51 seasons.

Melvin's squad competed in the National Invitation Tournaments in Madison Square Garden in 1950-51 and 1951-52 seasons.

But the same St. Bona team that won 21 games and lost only six during the 1951-52 season was able only to break even at 11-11 in the 1952-53 campaign.

Melvin, a native of Pittsburgh, came to St. Bonaventure in 1947 after service in the U. S. Air Force. His playing days were with Duquesne's Iron Dukes in the late 1930s.

Asked about his plans, Melvin commented, "I'm looking for a job."

Melvin's departure leaves "Taps" Gallagher, Niagara's coach who brought his team back from the university's worst record in 1951-52, as the only coach to keep his job in the Western New York Little Three Conference.

Joe Niland, Canisius coach, resigned March 9 and was replaced by Joe Curran.

Stengel Picks Yankees For Fifth Flag

By Joe Reichler

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Casey Stengel, undisturbed by the show progress of his front line pitchers predicted yesterday his World Champion New York Yankees would make it five in a row unless the rest of the American League was stronger than he thought.

The wise old skipper, and old hand at applying the needle, hurried what could amount to as a challenge at the other clubs when he said:

"I know all the other clubs are going to be gunning for us this year. Well, if they want to beat us, they better be greatly improved over last year because we're going to be a lot better ourselves."

"For the first time since I've taken over, I've got a set ball club for the start of a season. I've got experienced hands at every position. I've got more good pitchers than I've ever had before. And I've got a strong bench, the best in the league. This could be the best of all my Yankee Teams."

Admission

Stengel admitted his older pitchers, with emphasis on the big three—Allie Reynolds, Vic Kaschi and Eddie Lopat—had not yet rounded into form, but he was convinced they would be ready by the opening of the season. On the other hand, he was highly pleased over the hurling of Whitey Ford, Johnny Sain, Tom Gorman, Bob Kuzava, Bill Miller and Jim McDonald.

"Our pitching is bound to be better," he said. "I've got 15 pitchers, all of them good, and it's going to be a difficult job cutting down. Sure, the regulars have been plastered lately, but I'm not worried. They're working into shape their own way and I'm not going to force them."

The regular lineup is the same that defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series last October. Joe Collins, Billy Martin, Phil Rizzuto and Gil McDougald comprise the infield and Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Gene Woodling make up the regular outfield trip. Yogi Berra again will do most of the catching with Charlie Silvera and Ralph Hook in reserve.

Zimbar Rates Among Top Women Coaches In Nation

By Jim Riley

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College has one of the truly standout women coaches in the United States in the person of Genevieve Catherine Zimbar, who was born in Great Valley, N. Y., 50 years ago.

Miss Zimbar has a truly outstanding record, one that has enjoyed outstanding success through hard work and a thorough knowledge of her profession.

Last season the ESSTC Warriorettes won seven and lost two basketball games, but outstanding athletic records are common to the veteran coach who until recent years was in charge of all women's athletics up on Normal Hill.

Miss Zimbar attended St. Patrick's Parochial School in Salamanca, N. Y., and was graduated with a Regent's Diploma. The ESSTC coach completed four years of high school work in only three years.

Genevieve was graduated from New York State College for Teachers, in Albany, in 1922, where she majored in physical education and minored in English. In 1921 Miss Zimbar was graduated from Cornell University Summer School of Physical Education. She received her Master of Arts degree from New York University in 1929.

Miss Zimbar has also studied further at NYU, Harvard University Summer School of Physical Education, Chalf Normal School of Dancing, in New York, and the University of Pennsylvania.

The ESSTC mentor began her teaching career in Jamestown, N. Y., High School. She was released from that position before the end of the first year, so that she could accept a position in the Health Education Department in what was then East Stroudsburg State Normal School. Miss Zimbar arrived on Normal Hill in 1923 and has been there ever since.

Genevieve C. Zimbar

In 1939 Miss Zimbar was the dean and director of social and recreational activities at Mansfield State Teachers College. During the Summer of 1944, the ESSTC coach was an instructor in the Physical Education department of the graduate school at Penn State. Her present title is assistant professor.

During the course of the interview, Miss Zimbar said, "My long stay in East Stroudsburg is a tribute to my administrators and associates who are splendid to a student body which is tops and to a community which is wholesome and friendly."

Miss Zimbar is a member of the American Association of University Women, American Association of University Professors, National Association for Physical Education of College Women and Delta Kappa Gamma, an international honor society for women teachers. She is also listed in Who's Who in American Education and a contributing editor to the journal of the Pennsylvania State Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Miss Zimbar is also currently serving in the same association as chairman of the Credentials Committee and a member of the Honor Awards and Resolution Committee.

The ESSTC athletic mentor has taught all subjects in the major curriculum in health and physical education with the exception of driver training.

In the coaching field Miss Zimbar is in a class all by herself. She has coached 30 consecutive basketball teams at ESSTC, in addition to 10 field hockey squads and seven tennis teams.

ESSTC women's basketball teams have played 289 games, winning 216 and losing 73. Included in the list of victories is 10 ties. Zimbar teams were undefeated in 1930, 1941, 1942 and 1950. ESSTC annually tangles with some of the best girls' contingents in the east.

Zimbar basketball teams have played in nine states, namely Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, West Virginia, Virginia and Maryland.

Greatest Victory
ESSTC's greatest victory in girls' basketball came in 1928, when the Warriorettes rolled over Schuylkill College, 106-0. Schuylkill College is now Albright College.

The most one-sided defeat suffered by an ESSTC sextette came at the hands of Immaculate College in 1947, 58-18. The smallest score resulted in an 11-8 victory for ESSTC over Savage School in 1931.

Miss Zimbar introduced field hockey at the college in 1941, winning two of three matches during the first campaign. The ESSTC field hockey club participated in the annual Intercollegiate Field Hockey Tournament for the first time in 1947, losing two of three matches.

The ESSTC field hockey squad was undefeated in 1949, winning from Hunter College, Beaver College, Ursinus, New York University and completed the season with a tie against Temple. ESSTC placed Jane Moffet in the national tournament at Baltimore in 1949. This was the first time that a local field hockey star had ever reached the tournament. Miss Zimbar coached the third All-Philadelphia Field Hockey team during the tournament in 1949 and 1950.

Miss Zimbar also introduced women's tennis to ESSTC, this coming about in 1949. The Warriorettes won one of two matches the first year, but were defeated in 1949, winning over Ursinus, Brooklyn College, Temple, Drexel and NYU. Ardith Houser played in the Middle States Intercollegiate Girls' Tennis Championship in 1948. Miss Houser was the first ESSTC girl to be so honored.

Track Squad
ESSTC also featured a girls' track and field squad in 1928, with

Roofers, Firemen Win In Biddy Loop

WVPO's Lead Reduced By Full Length

Koren's Roofers won over Wyckoff-Sears, 29-21, and second place Stroudsburg Fire Department took the measure of league leading WVPO, 24-15, in a pair of Biddy Basketball League contests on the Monroe County YMCA court yesterday.

Both winning contingents held the upper hand from start to finish, although the outcome of each battle was in doubt until late in the last period.

Koren's club jumped out in front at the end of the first round, 8-6, and held a 13-10 advantage at the halfway mark.

The winning team put the game on ice with a 13-7 advantage in the third quarter and then with a 24-15 deficit in the last round to win.

Minus Star
WVPO, playing without its high scoring star, Dave Smith, was unable to stand the pace set by the Fire Department.

The Firemen led 6-2 at the end of the opening round and 13-6 at halftime. Both clubs scored four points in the third period, but the Firemen came back to make certain of victory with a 7-5 edge in the last round.

High scoring honors for the day went to Paul Wismer, forward for Koren's Roofers. Wismer picked up 13 points on six field goals and a single foul shot.

Pocono Manor Collier Falters In Four-Way Special Playoff For Greensboro Open Title

Greensboro, N. C. (AP) — Earl Stewart Jr., 31-year-old Dallas, Tex., redhead, won the Greensboro Open Golf Tournament yesterday with a par four on the 19th hole of a sudden death playoff with Sam Snead. The two had tied over 18 holes with two under par 65.

Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., and Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., who tied with Stewart and Snead at 275 for 72 holes, dropped out after 18 yesterday. Ford scored even par 70 and Wall 72.

Stewart, national intercollegiate champion 12 years ago while attending Louisiana State University, had never won a major tournament in his three previous years of circuit competition.

The closest he came was on last March 1 when he tied with four others for the Houston Open crown and finished fourth in a playoff.

He won $2,000 top money. By earlier agreement, Snead, Wall and Ford each received $1,000, splitting the second, third and fourth awards.

Turpin To Battle Humez In London

London (AP) — British Promoter Jack Solomons announced the signing of England's Randy Turpin and France's Charles Humez for a "world" middleweight title fight in London, June 9, but he received no support from American boxing commissions.

"European title yes, world title no," said Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission who also heads a joint board made up of himself and two NBA officials, George Barton and Abe J. Greene. Both Barton and Greene made similar statements.

No Approval
Solomons, as a matter of fact, hasn't yet received approval of the White City Stadium 15-rounders as a "world" title bout from the British Boxing Board of Control.

In New York, Christenberry said "We expect that Paddy Young and Carl Olson will meet for the American championship. 'We would like the winner to fight the Humez-Turpin winner for the world championship. If Young and Olson do not want to fight each other we will take appropriate action."

It did not say what the "appropriate action" would be but he said the joint board was determined to have an American champion.

Northwestern Votes Against Renewal Of Pact With Coast

Evanston, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern's faculty athletic committee has voted unanimously against renewal of the Big Ten-Pacific Coast Rose Bowl pact, Faculty Representative F. George Seuberg announced yesterday.

Northwestern thus voted against resumption of the current Rose Bowl football series that expires with the 1954 New Year's Day game. It is the fifth Big Ten school to make official announcement of its stand.

It joins Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan State against continuing the pact. Ohio State has already voted in the affirmative and Illinois has done likewise on a conditional basis.

Expected
Michigan, Iowa and Indiana are expected to vote yes on the issue as they have done in the past but have not yet announced their official stand.

Purdue's faculty today will cast its vote on recommendations by the school's faculty and athletic committees favoring renewal.

Purdue thus is the key school in the entire vote. If it votes no, the proposal appears almost certain of ending in a killing five-five deadlock. A majority is needed to carry it.

Moscow Entry Triumphs In Beagle Trial

Roaring Brook Patsy Ann, owned by Walter Perry, Moscow, walked off with top honors in the 13-inch class of the Delaware Beagle Association Elimination Derby States on Sunday. The program was held at the Monroe Beagle Club grounds, at Maple-in-the-Pines.

Second place in the same class went to Birch Creek Patty, the property of Lawrence T. Daubert, Walkerton, while Smickley's Susie, owned by Bertram Smickley, Wind Gap, finished in third place.

Fourth place was awarded to Gay Girl of Almars, the property of Allen Loran, Walnutport. Reserve honors went to Zine City Lee, belonging to Clinton Hagabuck, Palmyra.

Fifteen Inches
Only two places were awarded in the 15-inch class, with Lou's Valley Boy, owned by Dr. John Nesley, Lansford, being declared the winner. Second place was won by Hunter's Run Bill, the property of Richard Spurner, Quakertown.

All prize winners in Sunday's action are now eligible for the National Winners Stakes.

Judges for Sunday's events were Clarence Livengood, Palmyra, and Walter Werkheiser, Bethlehem.

An all-Age AKC sanctioned field trial will be held at Maple-in-the-Pines on Saturday, April 25.

Red Sox Send Trio To Minors, Switch Coaches

Sarasota, Fla. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox yesterday optioned three young pitchers and announced a change in the coaching staff.

Farmed out to the Louisville Colonels of the American Association were pitchers Tom Herrin, Stanley McWilliams and George Uhaze.

Change
Manager Lou Boudreau also announced that Earl Combs, onetime great New York Yankee outfielder, has resigned as a Boston coach. His place will be filled by Del Baker, former Detroit manager and a Sox coach when General Manager Joe Cronin was the field pilot.

Lou Combs, 54, announced his retirement from baseball. Combs said he had been thinking of retiring for some time and decided "to spend more time with my family and be a little closer to my interests in Richmond, Ky."

His retirement ends nearly 30 years' association with the game.

Cubs Decision Browns, 5-3

Mesa, Ariz. (AP) — Warren Hacker and Bob Schultz limited the St. Louis Browns to six hits yesterday as the Chicago Cubs rapped out a 5-3 victory.

Six Blows
All six blows, including a home run by Jim Dyck, were collected by the Browns off Hacker in the first seven innings. Bob Schultz retired St. Louis in order in the last two.

The Cubs pounced on Don Larsen and "Bobo" Holloman for 10 blows, including a homer by Frankie Baumholtz.

Dodgers Blank Red Sox, 5-0

Sarasota, Fla. (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers registered their fifth shutout of the spring as Billy Loes and Glenn Mickens blanked the Boston Red Sox, 5-0, yesterday. Neither pitcher has allowed an earned run in 15 innings.

Break Tie
Ken Holcombe, the Boston starter, matched their whitewash jobs until the sixth when a walk to Junior Gilliam and a triple by Duke Snider accounted for the first Brooklyn run. Marvin Grissom, the second Red Sox pitcher, allowed four runs in two innings.

Braves Wallop Toledo, 8-1

Bradenton, Fla. (AP) — Jim Wilson became the first Milwaukee pitcher to go the full nine innings yesterday as the Braves beat Toledo, 8-1, in an exhibition baseball game.

Attack
Wilson allowed nine hits while his mates, led by Billy Bruton's triple and pair of singles and Joe Adcock's two-run home run, collected 15 off three Toledo hurlers.

Three Matches Listed

Three matches are on tap for the East Stroudsburg Ladies' League today, at Harmon's Recreation, at 6:45 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Twin County Distributors vs Chestnut Grove.

Alleys three and four—Quick's Lounge vs Eagles.

Alleys five and six—Gap View Inn vs Palace Diner.

Shantz Works Distance For A's

Tampa, Fla. (AP) — Little Bobby Shantz, backed up by three home runs, went the full nine innings for the first time this spring yesterday as he pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 4 to 3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Home Runs
Home runs by Elmer Valo, Eddie Joost, and Cass Michaels, all off Redleg right hander Bubba Church, accounted for three of the A's runs. The Athletics bunched three hits off Eddie Erazt in the ninth to add their final marker.

Two of the three runs yielded by Shantz were unearned.

Rio Grande Improves Schedule

Rio Grande, O. (AP) — Coach New Oliver of Rio Grande College said yesterday he will have a basketball schedule next season "that will get rid of claims that our wins and records are 'ridiculous'."

Decision
Oliver's eagles, headed by big Clarence "Bevo" Francis, shipped through an undefeated season this year with 39 straight wins. Bevo wiped out most existing individual scoring records.

The NCAA recently decided the records should not be recognized as official because most games were against junior colleges.

Oliver said he has booked games with 17 senior colleges "for sure" for the 1953-54 season, and plans to play 30 or more games—most of them against four-year schools.

Oliver listed Morris Harvey, Creighton, Butler and Waynesburg among his opponents for next season.

The NCAA, at a recent Kansas City meeting, had caused Oliver great anger by stripping his basketball star of all his outstanding scoring records, due to the fact that Rio Grande played secondary opposition during the season just completed.

Oliver was so angry he announced that Rio Grande would submit all of its scores next year to the NAIA.

It's A. T. BLAKESLEE for INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER TRUCKS

New International model R-110, 115-inch wheelbase truck with 6 1/2-foot all-steel pickup body, is one of 165 basic truck chassis models in 296 wheelbases introduced with International Harvester Company's new R-line. Nine new pickup models, featuring 6 1/2, 8 and 9-foot all-steel bodies, are available in the R-110, R-120 and R-130 Series. Gross vehicle weight ratings range from 4,200 to 8,600 pounds. Three wheelbases and a variety of axle ratios and transmissions are offered. This and International's other new light-duty models are powered by the 100-horsepower valve-in-head Silver Diamond 220 engine. International R-line trucks are newly styled and are identified by the distinctive IH emblem, replacing the famed Triple Diamond. The line offers 307 new features developed at International's Fort Wayne, Ind., engineering and test laboratories and proved at its Phoenix, Ariz., desert Proving Ground.

Taxi Driver Denies Threat Against Kiner

Pittsburgh (AP) — A former taxi-cab driver posted $5,000 bond yesterday for a hearing but denied federal charges he sent a threatening letter to homerun king Ralph Kiner last August, demanding $6,200 from the Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder.

Joseph J. Bruno, 28, from nearby Verona, was arrested by FBI agents Saturday. Special Agent

Fred Hallford, in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said Bruno wrote Kiner a letter which said:

Contents
"You make a good target in left field. Do what I say, I'm not bad but I'm desperate. If I don't get the money, I'm a ruined man. I might as well go to jail for shooting you as to have my family and friends disgraced by what I did."

U. S. Commissioner Harold Levine set the bond, Bruno had been held in jail over the weekend in default of $20,000 bond. He will be given a hearing after Kiner returns from Havana, Cuba, where the Pirates are holding spring training.

Oldest In Point Of Service, Rayburn Also 'Most Eligible'

This is the fourth in a series of six articles.

By Hal Tufty

Washington — The man in the House with the longest service record (40 years) still is on the Washington society editors' list of "most eligible bachelors in town."

At 70, bald-headed Sam Rayburn certainly is one of the most asked-out-for-dinner men in the capital. Hostesses say the former speaker of the House is the ideal extra man for an important dinner. Women in Congress like the bouquets he throws them on the floor of the House.

In an interview, the Texas Democrat, who now is minority leader, confessed "women in government impress me with the conscientious way they go about their work." He wants more elected!

Looking back, which he does not do unless urged, he said, "I enjoyed my first inauguration more than I did this last one . . . and not because the Democrats were riding high." For him, there was more delight in the horse-drawn floats than displays of atomic artillery and noise of motorcycles. And back then politicians wore high silk hats, swallow-tailed coats and looked like statesmen.

When asked "what was the hottest issue during your 40 years in the House?" he pondered a while and then, with a grin, admitted "pulling the New Deal through 1933 to 1937."

Rayburn contends "political party lines are not as clearly drawn now as they were when I first came here. Republicans are not as solidly for high tariffs for some. Republicans now recognize foreign countries must earn dollars to be able to buy our export products."

The man from Texas even can remember when the United States was a "debtor nation." He commented, "World War I changed that with the demand for more production."

Over the last two score years the men elected to Congress have become more capable, this veteran claims, adding, "there is less blood and thunder in the debates and now that the government covers

so many subjects congressmen necessarily have to be better informed."

No man has been speaker of the House for as long as he. Henry Clay's 306-day record starting Nov. 4, 1811, was beaten by Rayburn Jan. 31, 1951. He has held the post ever since 1940, except during the 80th and present Congresses.

Republican Speaker Joseph Martin says "he is honored and respected by Democrats and Republicans alike . . . for his ability to be fair and impartial and to interpret the rules and do justice for all, even if it be adverse, as it must be at times, to his own party and his own convictions."

That's Sam.

1,000 To Lose Jobs In Two U. S. Agencies

Washington, (AP) — Word went out yesterday that the administration's economy drive would whack off about 270 jobs in the Labor Department and 750 in the Agriculture Department's Production and Marketing Administration.

Secretary of Labor Durkin gave notice of his employment slash in appearing before a Senate appropriations subcommittee. He said it would come in a $10,403,000 cut in the $331,818,600 Labor Department budget originally submitted by former President Truman.

However, the Truman budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 shows a 321 million dollar estimate for the Labor Department. None of the subcommittee questioned Durkin on this discrepancy and a Labor Department budget officer later insisted the 331 million figure was correct for Truman's original estimate.

At about the same time Durkin appeared on Capitol Hill news leaked out at the Agriculture Department that Secretary Benson has directed that the Washington PMA staff of 2,347 be cut by about 750.

Under civil service and veterans rights, the cutdown involves "bumping" of junior employees by those with greater seniority. Personnel officials conceded such a shift usually brings chaos for a time.

Benson has recommended a budget for the next fiscal year that would eliminate the equivalent of about 3,000 full-time jobs in his department. The PMA discharges are scheduled to be issued April 10 and others in the Agriculture Department presumably will come later in the spring.

PMA workers affected will be given a month's time to find other jobs in the department through the "bumping" process. Officials said the department expects at least a third of these employees to be out of jobs by July 1. Those to get notices receive salaries ranging from about $11,000 downward.

Plans are being made to give notices to an undetermined number of employees of the Rural Electrification Administration. Benson has recommended a reduced volume of power and telephone lending during the fiscal year. The agency's chief function is to make loans to bring electric power to farms.

RR Replies To Suit Filed By Truckers

Philadelphia (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad denied yesterday that it seeks to "destroy transportation by truck" and added it is itself "the largest truck operator in Pennsylvania and sixth largest truck operator in the nation."

The largest railroad in the United States, the Pennsy is a defendant in a triple damage suit filed by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association in federal court.

The suit charges the PRR and 30 other railroads combined with a New York public relations firm, Carl Byler associates, Inc., to engage in a "campaign to vilification" against the trucking industry.

The Pennsy's answer, filed in U. S. District Court, contended that the truckers designed the suit to "divert attention from mounting public opinion" against what the PRR termed highway destruction by the heavy trucks.

Actually, the railroad said, the heavy truck operators hope the court action will enable them "to avoid payment of proper and sufficient charges for their use of the highways, and thereby retain their ability to compete with this defendant on an unfair and discriminatory basis."

The PRR said as a "payer of large amounts of taxes to the federal, state and local governments, it (the railroad) is adversely affected by . . . the failure of big truckers to pay their fair share of the cost of building and maintaining the public highways which they use in their private business."

"Heavy truckers have by untrue and misleading statements . . . sought to give the impression they speak for all of the highway users, including the operators of 8,700,000 small and medium-sized trucks and over 44 million passenger cars, tempted to keep from the public and the legislatures information of the great and costly damage to the highways that they, a small fraction of the highway users, have caused and are causing."

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 1953
May 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Home budget activities, such as essential as those of business. Be careful not to try to handle more than you can handle. Be realistic.
April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Taurus natives are often too determined, and today is one when you should not be so inclined. Take sound advice, especially in weighty matters.
April 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — What's good for one, isn't always good for another. That's why each person should stick to his or her problem step by step. Do so.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You have extremely low feeling for your future. Your goal given talents, cooperate at right time and place, and you will achieve. Exercise your strong will wisely.
July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — There may be a great deal of work, but come involved in arguments. Don't return later.
August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Check each action, intended endeavor, and be sure not to scatter energy or intelligence on useless things.
September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Stars indicate little assistance during most of day. But they are not hostile and you can make some progress in routine duties.
October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Hold back tendency to force or become irritated. You usually will accomplish just as much and be happier.
November 24 to December 31 (Sagittarius) — Show your real worth, study background; live up to convictions. Have faith in YOU; don't depend on others.
December 31 to January 31 (Capricorn) — Stars rather restricting, so be sure you are right before acting. Don't be on the fence in matters of principle, faith or creed.
January 31 to February 28 (Aquarius) — Uncertain for the time. You want to check on yourself and what's happening around you.
February 29 to March 30 (Pisces) — I've your God given talents, cooperate at right time and place, and you will achieve. Exercise your strong will wisely.
YOU BORN TODAY: Speedy in decisions, action, a knack of judging best angles to follow and personality help lead the Aries astray. Your intellectual and emotional nature differ, each powerful in its sphere. Concentrate on happy medium. Have patience; cooperate at times as with outsiders.

Extension Of Free Banking System Urged

Skylap—The creation of a long range plan for presenting the philosophy and mechanics of the American independent banking system to foreign economic leaders was urged Sunday by Carl K. Dellmuth, secretary of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association.

"Currently, our leaders are struggling with problems of economic and educational aid to foreign neighbors," Dellmuth stated at a meeting of the PBA Council of Administration here.

"In the process we are giving away billions of dollars annually and sharing our best industrial and agricultural knowledge. Moreover, we are being urged to get the international economic community back on a going basis—a basis which should have a strong overtone of free competitive enterprise, as contrasted with the debilitating effects of a government controlled economy.

"But free competitive enterprise simply cannot flourish in a climate of government banking.

"The American concept of banking is a prime requisite of a free competitive economy," he continued. "We must enunciate the merits of the American banking system to those countries which request our help and guidance.

"Our responsibility as freedom-loving Americans is to understand the value of our own banking system, and to impart this knowledge to others in an atmosphere of humility, patience, and human understanding."

Dellmuth sounded a warning to American bankers, saying, "How can the system of privately owned banks remain secure in this country if banking in other parts of the world does not embrace at least the basic philosophy of our own system? Stated another way, can the American concept of banking exist in isolation any more than the United States of America can hope to endure in military and political isolation?"

An example of cooperation between American free enterprise and overseas neighbors was cited by Mr. Dellmuth to support his proposal for an international exchange of banking philosophy. He reported that the PBA register and vote campaign in the fall of 1952 has resulted in a similar campaign to get out the vote in West Germany. The German campaign was conducted by a former German exchange student at the University of North Carolina who became a member of the National Executive Committee of "Aktion F" (Freedom in Action), an organization combating Communist influence in West Germany.

The German student obtained samples of PBA materials used in the Pennsylvania voting campaign and, with encouragement from the Association, developed an integrated voting campaign in West Germany.

The young German reported the reason behind the intensive campaign to increase the vote. "That is because all the Communists (who are small but well organized) are going to the polls and the other people, as you have learned in the states, are staying at home," he said.

The voting materials being adapted in West Germany formed a part of the extensive 1952 register and vote campaign conducted by the banks of Pennsylvania, which won a major award from The American Heritage Foundation.

Sciota

Mrs. Richard Rinker

An early Easter dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Fenner and son David, in honor of Robert Flick who is home on leave from the armed forces. Upon returning he will be transferred to Texas. Present were Charles Baltz, Vera Fenner, Mrs. Minnie Snyder and daughter Faye Snyder, and the honored guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bittenbender and daughters, Dora, Jane and Marie called on Mrs. Bittenbender's sister, Mrs. Margaret Arnold in Hope, N. J., recently.

Mrs. Lawrence Dennis accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Oscar Metzgar, sister, Mrs. Eva Hohenfeldt, and a friend, Mrs. Leon White went on a motor trip recently through Palmerton, Lehighton and back home by way of McMichael.

Miss Vera Fenner called on Mrs. Charles Hobbs on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Minnie Snyder came home on Tuesday to find a load of lumber in her yard, which was put there by mistake.

Mrs. Minnie Snyder and sons, Charles and Harry and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Fenner and son David visited with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meisel and family at Kunkletown recently.

Freddie Rinker is suffering with a sprained muscle in his knee and confined to his home at present, after colliding with a playmate in school on Thursday while playing tag.

546 Witness Confirmation

Vestry ushers reported one of the largest congregations in the history of Grace Lutheran Church, Palm Sunday when 546 individuals crowded the sanctuary to witness the confirmation service.

Twenty-three young people were received into church membership. Ronald Wayne Heller, who was to be confirmed, was unable to attend because of illness. He will be confirmed at special services in the near future.

The final mid-week vesper worship service will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. W. F. Wunder preaching on "Should Not Perish . . .", from John 3:16.

On Thursday night at 7:30 preparatory services and the Lord's Supper will be administered with Rev. Herbert Gernert Jr., of Allentown, assisting.

On Good Friday from 12:30 to 2 p.m. community Good Friday services will be held in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church with all Protestant churches and pastors of East Stroudsburg participating. The theme will be "The Seven Last Words From The Cross."

Easter sunrise services will be held in Grace Church at 6:15 a.m. Easter Day and the festival service of the Resurrection at 10:45 on Easter morning at which time the Holy Communion will be administered. The Confirmation Class will receive its first communion at this service.

Robert J. Staph

Pvt. Robert Muller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Muller, Newfoundland, and Pvt. Clifford-Cron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cron, Angels, are spending furloughs from the US Army with their parents. Both have been stationed at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., and are on orders to Fort Lewis, Washington, upon completion of their furloughs. Both expect assignment to the Far East.

Mrs. David Hause, Angels, and Mrs. R. Nevin Gilpin, Sterling, have been named district leaders for Dreher and Sterling Townships by Robert Demer, Honesdale, chairman of the 1953 Cancer Crusade. The drive will begin April 1.

Carole Akers, Helen Schoenagel and Arlene Simons, members of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Tri-Hi-Y unit, were among delegates to the Pennsylvania United Nations Assembly in Harrisburg recently. The Assembly, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Y. M. C. A., is designed to acquaint the girls with world problems and the functioning of the United Nations. The local students, along with three other delegates from Wayne County, represented Sweden at the meetings.

John Rasmussen, Angels, underwent surgery in the Hahnemann hospital, Scranton, recently.

Meetings this week include: Ladies Fire auxiliary in the firehouse Wednesday night; Ladies of Paupack Rebekah lodge in the IOOF hall Thursday night.

The Way-Pik-Mo Sportsmen's association stocked feeder streams of the south branch of the Wallenpaupack with 10,000 fingerling trout on Thursday.

Birthdays celebrants this week include: Monday—Frank Hackman Jr.; Tuesday—Minnie Rohacker, Walter Malson, James Alan Wild; Wednesday—Olive Smith, Fred Ziegler, Melvin Manhart, Delbert Bartleson; Thursday—Lester E. ## Mediterranean Port City Of Barcelona Famous For Churches, Proud Of Firsts

(Following is the twenty-sixth of a series of travel articles written by Ruth Haller Ottaway, author of James H. Ottaway, publisher of The Daily Record.)

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

The three largest cities in Spain, as you know, are Barcelona with two million people, Madrid with one million, two hundred thousand, and Valencia with a half million. We observed at once the great amount of building going on in Spain following Franco's program of reconstruction after the Civil War.

You recall that the Mediterranean port of Barcelona is the wealthy capital of four Catalan provinces, and is situated between two rivers, the Besos and the Llobregat with the Tibidabo and Montjuich mountains at its rear.

Mrs. Ottaway

We were fortunate to be piloted around the city by a charming Spanish woman whose husband, head of a world coffee firm, had made homes for her in San Francisco, New York, Brussels, and London. A true cosmopolitan back in her native city, she was proud to show it to us.

She pointed out her birthplace in the old Barcelona which still retains its Aragonian and Catalan flavor. The charm of wrought-iron balconies and latticed windows suggesting flashing eyes behind them, high combs and lace mantillas envelopes one here as always in old Spain.

The handsome, wide thoroughfares of the new city are called "ramblas." The people with their entire families use them for promenading, before and after their late ten o'clock dinner. We were astonished to find these stunning "ramblas" full of light, life and color late into the night.

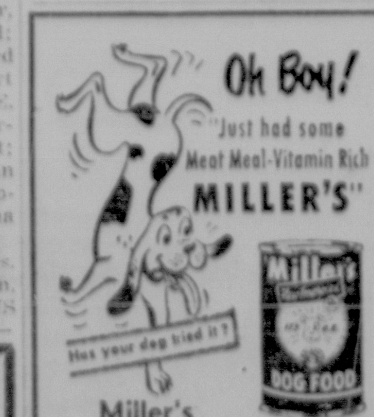

The old 13th century Gothic cathedral is a masterpiece. Although the top of the main vaulted ceiling is only 84 feet, the proportions are so fine that there is an illusion of great height. The small, high windows are exceptionally beautiful with their 13th century stained glass.

But nothing is so dull as a succession of cathedrals, read about or seen. It is like racing over a picture gallery of hundreds of wonderful canvases. Some years ago when we saw cathedrals everywhere, one after another, a group of American men bolted and sang the old MacGregor song, "Old MacGregor had a church, With a church, church here, And a church, church there, Everywhere another church," etc.

But there is one church that cannot be skipped. Never was there anything like it. The Sagrada Familia (Sacred Family) Church is the pride of Barcelona. The crypt underneath and three pinnacles only are nearing completion after fifty years of work.

The heavily decorated spires and huge doorway with hundreds of
